PLENTY OF WATER FOR MARIN THIS YEAR

Alpine Lake, one of the five reservoirs in the Marin Municipal Water District, caught enough water from last week's storms to bring its level within 15 feet from the top. The lake rose nearly four feet in one day, bringing its water supply to 1,980,000,000 gallons. The district's total storage as of yesterday was 14,630,000,000 gallons, or twice the amount needed in an average year. Lagunitas and Phoenix lakes are overflowing. Stafford Lake, in the North Marin Water District, is at its highest point in 18 months. (Independent-Journal photo by Dick Steinheimer taken from Bell helicopter piloted by Fred W. Khrushchev Again Asks For Summit

Western Reply Again Expected To Be Rejection

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in a lengthy message to President John F. Kennedy today renewed his call for a summit conference to open the Geneva disarmament meeting next month.

Officials said the Russian leader, despite a previous Western rejection, appealed anew for such a top-level session on the grounds that the matter had become too important to leave to the deliberations of lesser statesmen.

GO ALONE?

The Khrushchev message, which totalled about 2,500 words, left open the possibility that the Russian leader might go to the Geneva conference even if Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan continue to refuse to attend.

Officials said the Soviet note did not disclose whether Khrushchev would send Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to Geneva if he decided not to attend himself.

The Russian leaders, officials said, argued at length his case for a summit meeting to open the March 14 Geneva conference. Kennedy and Macmillan told him just a week ago that such a top-level session now would be premature.

LATER DATE

The British and U.S. leaders offered, however, to meet with Khrushchev later if progress, or the possibility of progress, at Geneva warranted such a move.

The 18-nation disarmament conference is under instructions from the United Nations to submit a progress report to that organization by June 1.

U.S. officials predicted an early White House reply to the Khrushchev message but they expected no change in the Western position.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger, acknowledging that the message had been received, said there would be no comment until it had been studied thoroughly.

Earlier in Geneva, the Soviet Union indicated it was ready to go ahead with test ban talks at the disarmament talks.

4 YANKS INJURED AS TRAINS COLLIDE

40 Dead In Colombia Disaster; Marin Cadets May Have Been Aboard

(E. N. Kettenhofen, of San Anselmo, a member of the board of governors of the California Maritime Academy, said today some Marin youths were aboard the Golden Bear docked at Buenaventura, Colombia. He said he did not know if any were on a train carrying cadets to Cali. Among Americans reported injured, none were from Marin.)

COMBINED AP & UPI

CALI, Colombia—A passenger train with 87 California Maritime Academy trainees aboard collided head-on today with a diesel locomotive 30 miles from Cali.

Railway executives said at least 100 persons were injured, including four Americans. There were 40 deaths. The cadets were from the training ship Golden Bear which docked in the Pacific coast port of Buenaventura last Monday.

Railway inspector Jose Israel Ruiz said 10 bodies had been recovered from the wreckage of three cars which left the track and turned over after the early morning collision.

The four Americans were taken by helicopter to a hospital at Buenaventura.

The injured Americans were at breakfast in the dining car when the collision occurred. The group occupied a rear car of the train. The railway said the accident happened at 7:29 a.m. There was no immediate official information available as to the cause of the head-on crash. The locomotive was coming from the opposite direction on a different track.

At Vallejo, location of the academy, the injured were identified as:

Dennis Allison, Placerville, a broken leg and a possible broken back.

Paul Murphy, San Pedro, broken arm and broken leg.

Daniel Clifford, Coronado, broken leg.

Terence Purdom, Richmond, broken arm.

Paper Tells Of Wife's Message

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Kremlin publicly acknowledged for the first time today the existence of Col. Rudolf Abel, the convicted Soviet spy who was exchanged for U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers nearly two weeks ago.

The government newspaper Izvestia printed a letter revealing to the Russian public that Abel had been released and returned to Soviet authorities on Feb. 10.

The letter, from Abel's wife, Helen and daughter, Lydia, publicly thanked Premier Nikita Khrushchev for arranging the release of the colonel.

ENDS SILENCE

It ended years of official Soviet silence on the case of Abel, who had been sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment in the United States after his conviction on charges of sending American nuclear and other defense secrets to Moscow while posing as a Brooklyn photographer.

Publication of the letter was seen here as a Soviet attempt to offset criticism abroad and news leaking through to the Russian people that their government had concealed details of the exchange.

Abel's wife and daughter, in their letter to Khrushchev, said Abel had been "innocently arrested" and "unlawfully committed."

POWERS' CRASH

The letter did not specify that Abel had been exchanged for Powers. Nor did it mention the simultaneous release of American student Frederic Pryor, who had been held in East Germany.

Powers had been sentenced to 10 years in prison for spying after his high-flying plane crashed deep inside the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

At the time of his release, the government said it acted with the aim of improving Soviet-American relations. But no mention was made of the exchange for Abel at that time nor was his name mentioned in the press until today.

The letter, dated Feb. 19, gave no clue to Abel's whereabouts. It gave the impression that Abel's liberation was strictly a Soviet initiative.

'NUMEROUS APPEALS'

"All our numerous appeals, including those to the U. S. president, on giving clemency to our innocent, dear father and husband did not yield any positive results," the mother and daughter said in the letter.

"We then applied to the Soviet government and established contact with the relatives of F. Powers, convicted in the USSR, who in turn applied to the USSR government for clemency and asked the U.S. government to give them every support in that.

"The Soviet authorities responded favorably to our requests," the letter continued. "As is known, F. Powers was released on Feb. 10 this year."

We'll Stand By You, Kennedy Tells Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy told a crowd of about 100,000 West Berliners at City Hall today a Soviet attack on West Berlin "would be the same thing as an attack on Chicago, New York, London or Paris."

"You are our brothers and we will stand by you," declared the president's world-touring brother.

The attorney general flew to West Berlin without any Soviet attempt to hinder his plane in the air corridors and first visited the Communists' wall.

Looking at the wall he declared it was a "terrible indictment" of the Communists.

As he began to speak at City Hall two rockets bearing Red flags and slogans went up.

Enraged by the demonstration, the crowd booed, whistled and catcalled. Puzzled, Kennedy halted speaking until aides pointed at parachutes floating down from the rockets as the cause of the booing.

"The Communists let their balloons go through but not their people," Kennedy said.

The booing turned to laughter at Kennedy's statement.

FBI's Hoover Pleads For Patriotism

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, accepting the Freedoms Foundation award as the American who made the most outstanding contribution to freedom in 1961, said today the United States needs more than ever modern-day patriots to fight crime and communism.

"We desperately need patriotism founded on a real understanding of the American ideal—a dedicated belief in our principles of freedom and a determination to perpetuate America's heritage," he said.

He and other top winners were honored in a remodeled colonial barn that overlooks historic Valley Forge where George Washington's troops spent the winter of 1777-78. A fresh layer of overnight snow covered the rolling hills.

Hoover, in his prepared talk, said the nation is losing its battle against crime and hastening disaster "when we tolerate weaknesses in the administration of justice—weaknesses which enable repeated undeserved leniencies to be showered upon vicious young, robbers, rapists and murderers."

"Crime has a partner in forming the common denominator of a breakdown in moral behavior; it is the influence of godless communism," he said.

Washington As Man And Legend

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — As a teenager there were no visible signs to stamp him for future greatness.

His formal education ceased at 17. He was tall, raw-boned and subject to sieges of sickness.

His face was pock-marked, strong-featured rather than handsome. He was not clever or quickwitted, and some found him stuffy.

He had a quick temper, but worked hard to control it—as he did other faults he found in himself.

He was in turn a frontier surveyor, a farmer, a soldier more formidable for his determination than his tactical or strategic skill.

But at 57 this unlikely figure had become the greatest revolutionary leader of his century. He had freed his country from foreign domination, won worldwide stature, and been unanimously chosen its first president.

George Washington seems remote today to many of us, but he was a giant in a time of giants. Few lands in so short a period have produced such a cluster of gifted men as John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Alexander Hamilton, Benjamin Franklin, and Thomas Paine.

What qualities made Washington the only one who could lead them to victory in war and unity in peace?

They were the same qualities that, as a teen-age boy, Washington painfully and self-consciously tried to develop—self-discipline, integrity, and a character steadfast and unshaken in the face of any trial.

He learned to command himself before he was summoned to command others. He molded himself before he molded a nation. And no man in history was perhaps less corrupted by that strongest of all wines—power.

Weather Outlook Is For Light Rain

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The outlook is for occasional light rain in California tonight and tomorrow as far south as Monterey and Fresno, the Weather Bureau reported today.

Northerly winds will increase to 12 to 25 miles an hour both inland and on the coast, the forecaster said.

There will be occasional snow in the mountain areas and considerable wind in the Sierra passes.

Cultural Activities Coordinator Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that August Heckscher, director of the Twentieth Century Fund, has agreed to become a coordinator of the government and private cultural activities.

Heckscher will spend two days a week in Washington without giving up his position with the research organization in New York.

Federal Aid To Education Pros, Cons

A Marin County Republican school administrator said today that federal educational aid means "at least a fighting chance to live in a free society."

But another Marin Republican serving as a school district trustee countered that federal aid can weaken local efforts vital to good education.

These expressions by two panelists on a radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" caused Moderator Kitty Openheimer to suggest that perhaps a fissure generally exists between administrators and trustees on the federal aid issue.

"My own board opposes me on this so it's 5-1 and I am grateful for my chance for freedom of expression," responded Supt. Dennie B. Willis of Dixie School District. "Perhaps this indicates a pattern of administrators for, trustees against, federal aid. But much depends on the tax situation where you live."

Dr. William Clark of the San Anselmo School District Board had said that as a Republican, his philosophy supported individual and local effort and that he felt not as much is being done on the local level to support education as could be. In some areas only one-third the effort is being exerted as in others while federal aid, Clark felt, dilutes local responsibility.

Another speaker on the discussion, to be rebroadcast by tape recording at 12:30 p.m.

Officer To Quit In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Police Officer Edward C. Grigg said today he will resign his position as of March 7.

He plans to take two weeks vacation and then go to work for the Mill Valley Lumber Co. with whom he has worked for some time on a part-time basis. "It was time for a change," Grigg said, when asked his reason for quitting.

Grigg, 31, has been with the police department seven years and lives with his wife, Joanie, and daughter at 126 Hawthorne Avenue, Larkspur.

Glenn's Spaceship Is Given Good Mark In Examination

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Engineers and technicians today examined the Friendship 7 spaceship which John H. Glenn Jr. rode into orbit Tuesday.

Except for some surface scorching from the 3,000-degree re-entry heat, a preliminary look showed it to be in exceptionally good condition, reported a spokesman for McDonnell Aircraft Co., which made the capsule. (See also stories, photo, page 8.)

He said these two areas are receiving special attention

They are the automatic attitude control system which malfunctioned slightly and forced Glenn to take over partial manual control for much of the four-hour 56-minute space journey when one of 18 gas jets on the capsule surface apparently failed to work, reducing effectiveness of control on the yaw axis; and the difficulty Glenn had trying to exit the capsule after the craft had been pulled from the sea and placed on the deck of the destroyer Noa.

Egress involves removal of a parachute canister and other equipment. But after several minutes of trying to remove a section of instrument panel, the astronaut gave up and pushed a plunger which blew out an escape hatch on the side.

In practice sessions, Glenn had been able to leave within a few minutes. He had hoped to avoid blowing the hatch to keep the capsule as intact as possible.

An Air Force plane flew the spacecraft here from Grand Turk Island yesterday. The plane crew had written on it: "Rescued from the Navy by the 17th Air Transport Squadron, Charleston Air Force Base, S. C."

Earlier, sailors of the Noa had added two Noa decals, similar to baggage stickers used by travelers.

The searing re-entry heat had nearly wiped out the Friendship 7 label and an American flag painted on the side.

NOVEL BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION

The steel bridge at Whiskey Creek near Redding, Shasta County, called for unusual techniques in erection. After the end sections had been rolled, inch by inch, onto concrete "legs," these end sections were used as a crane to hoise the center section. Besides the welding of three different grades of steel into the bridge the designers used an attractive streamline appearance to fit in with the surrounding. (UPI photo)

Brown Defends Record In State Agriculture

DINUBA (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown, whose agricultural policies have been attacked by Richard M. Nixon, today declared his administration was doing much to help California farmers.

Brown defended his record in remarks prepared for an agricultural and business luncheon on his "report to the people" tour.

The Democratic governor said his administration's "good relationships with the Kennedy administration" will assist California farmers in conferences dealing with possible United States tariff agreement with the European Common Market.

And, he said, he is using all his influence to see that California gets its fair share of federal cotton allocations.

"I can tell you that I made a very strong appeal to Secretary Freeman concerning California's acreage allotments for 1962," he said.

Nixon, seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination, criticised Brown for once planning to place the state Department of Agriculture under the new Natural Resources Agency.

After farm organizations protested the move, Brown made the department an independent agency in his cabinet.

Yesterday at Sunnyvale, Brown defended the state's recent seizure of secret files stored in the National Guard Armory at San Diego.

Nine filing cabinets and a one-ton safe, which reportedly contain intelligence data dating back to 1928 on the loyalty of individuals and organizations, were seized 10 days ago by Maj. Gen. Roderic L. Hill, head of the State Military Department.

Brown told a news conference here, "I approve very much. I stand 100 per cent behind Gen. Hill."

The San Diego Research Library, a private organization, compiled and used the files. The state owns the cabinets and safe.

Brown said he didn't know what the controversial files were doing in the armory but said he had permitted his chief liaison officer, Brig. Gen. Harold Hjelm, to use them in making security checks.

President Still Predicts Urban Affairs Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has torpedoed President John F. Kennedy's plan to establish a Cabinet-level department of urban affairs. But he says there will be such a department "sooner or later."

The lopsided 264-150 House vote yesterday also killed Kennedy's plans to put a Negro, Robert C. Weaver, in the Cabinet for the first time. Weaver, now head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, would have become the urban affairs secretary.

In turning back Kennedy's reorganization proposal 111 Democrats, mostly Southerners, joined 153 Republicans. Thirteen Republicans crossed over to support the President, voting with 137 Democrats for the plan.

At his news conference Kennedy blamed his expected but stunning setback on sectionalism.

He said: "If we in this country began to adopt the system that everyone who lives in a city area voted against those things which were of assistance to the farmer, and everybody who comes from a rural area voted against those policies which provided a better life for people in the city this country would come to a grinding halt."

Expressing regret that Congress had rejected the plan, Kennedy said he still regarded creation of such a department vitally important. "I don't think it is so much the administration's loss as it is a loss for the cities and the country," he said.

WASHINGTON'S DOLLARS REALLY COUNT TODAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—That silver dollar George Washington is supposed to have thrown across the Rappahannock River would have bought him anything from a typewriter to a television set in Washington today.

But he would have had to get up pretty early to make sure he got the bargain.

Thousands of shoppers were looking for the choicest, cheapest buys as merchants marked the 230th anniversary of Washington's birth with their annual super sales.

Typewriters—"in good condition"—were going for 22 cents and up, used TV sets for as little as 98 cents—if you got there in time.

Kennedy Tells Nikita To Prove His Wishes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy has challenged Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to waste no time in proving he favors joint efforts to explore outer space.

"I think it is particularly important now, before space becomes devoted to uses of war," Kennedy said at his news conference yesterday.

Khrushchev had sent a message congratulating the United States on Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr.'s triple orbit of the globe and suggesting the two governments combine resources to explore outer space.

Less than four hours after the news conference the White House made public a direct reply to Khrushchev. In it Kennedy expressed hope "that at a very early date our representatives may meet to discuss our ideas and yours in a spirit of practical cooperation."

He added the United States would come up with "new and concrete proposals" for joint enterprises that could be undertaken without delay.

Kennedy opened his news conference with a statement noting that twice before he had offered the same sort of proposition Khrushchev advanced. But the President called the Soviet premier's move an encouraging sign for international cooperation.

Kennedy also disclosed a special board of inquiry is determining whether U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers violated the contract under which he made his ill-fated reconnaissance flight over the Soviet Union on May 1, 1960.

Government officials have interrogated Powers in secret ever since he was released Feb. 10 in a prisoner exchange with the Soviets.

Rebel Council Ready To Act On Algeria

Hopes Soar For Cease-Fire This Weekend

PARIS (AP)—The Algerian rebels' National Council was called into session in Tripoli today to act on an agreement with France to end the seven-year Algerian rebellion.

The 60-member council was expected to give the necessary four-fifths approval to the accord paving the way for Algerian independence. France has already endorsed the measure.

FORCES MASSED

The rebel cabinet reportedly approved it before leaving Tunis for Libya. Hopes soared for a cease-fire in the North African territory by Sunday.

French forces in Algeria massed around major metropolitan areas, poised to strike back quickly should extremists among Algeria's one million Europeans try to block an Algerian accord by force.

All signs pointed to a last-ditch uprising by the right-wing European Secret Army Organization pledged to keep Algeria French. For the first time French troops battled openly in field combat yesterday with secret army members.

TRACTS PUT OUT

But the Moslem nationalists obviously believed that the end of their long battle against France—and possibly the beginning of a new struggle against Algeria's Europeans—was near at hand. They distributed tracts among Algeria's nine million Moslems urging them to avoid clashes with Europeans and to "demonstrate your joy within your own areas."

President Charles de Gaulle's government approved the Algerian agreement Wednesday night after nearly four hours of discussion.

Louis Joxe, minister of Algerian affairs and top French negotiator with the nationalist rebels, spoke for more than an hour on the tentative accord hammered out in secret talks in France last week.

The document, more than 100 pages long, spells out provisions for a cease-fire and steps for a self-determination referendum which de Gaulle fully expects to decide for independence.

Women For Peace Hear Carrow Talk

Robert D. Carrow, candidate for Democratic nomination as Marin-Sonoma assemblyman, spoke to 30 members of Marin Women for Peace yesterday at the home of Mrs. Mary Bewley in Tiburon.

Carrow discussed the role of the state legislature in planning for a peacetime economy. The next meeting of the group will be on March 7 at 10 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Lola Hanzel, 100 Goodhill Road, Kentfield. John Wylie, World Federalist speaker's bureau member, will speak on economic aspects of disarmament.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

New Satellite

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The U.S. Air Force has a new satellite in orbit — one it doesn't want to talk about.

The satellite was launched, in secrecy, from this big missile base yesterday.

The Air Force said only it was an Agena B rocket, boosted aloft by an Atlas missile and the launching was successful.

Experts theorized it was a test vehicle for the sky-spy Samos and Midas satellites, which are designed to keep Soviet missile bases under surveillance. The Soviet Union has protested the launching of military satellites, terming them acts of aggression.

Lie Test Due

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Miss Elizabeth Thring, 22, American friend of a slain U.S. assistant military attache, took a lie detector test today during interrogations.

Investigations so far have tended to clear Miss Thring of any direct involvement in the killing of Lt. Col. Hulen D. Stogner last Wednesday.

The blonde Washington girl is staying with American friends. She was released yesterday from court custody.

Stormy Weather

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

More stormy weather battered wide areas in eastern half of the nation today, with snow in northern sections and heavy rain, hail and strong winds in the Southeast.

Blizzard warnings, with snow and strong northerly winds sweeping out of northern Alberta, Canada, were posted for eastern sections of Montana and Wyoming, the Dakotas and extreme western Nebraska.

Puppeteer Dies

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Bungoro Yoshida, the puppeteer designated by the government as a "cultural asset," is dead. He was 92.

Yoshida devoted his life to the art of thrilling adult audiences with his gorgeously gowned 3-foot dolls.

He was designated an "important intangible cultural asset" in 1955. The government has given this title to more than 200 persons it feels possess vanishing skills that should be handed down to future generations.

Final Death Toll

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP)—Officials said Wednesday the final death toll in the Feb. 7 Luisenthal Mine disaster was 298.

A total of 287 bodies was recovered from the mine near here following the explosion. Eleven miners died of injuries.

Out Of Hospital

BURBANK (AP)—Lindsay Crosby's wife, Barbara Diane, has returned to the couple's San Fernando Valley home after nine days in St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Crosby, 23, was released from the hospital Tuesday night.

A spokesman said she will be under a nurse's care although she appeared to have recovered from her illness, diagnosed as a complication of pregnancy. The Crosbys are expecting their second child in mid-June.

Mrs. Crosby was in a coma when admitted to the hospital Feb. 11.

Miller Marries

ROXBURY, Conn. (AP) — Playwright Arthur Miller, 46, whose four-year marriage to movie star Marilyn Monroe broke up last year, has quietly married again.

The new wife of the tall, lean Pulitzer prizewinner is Ingeborg Morath, 38, an Austrian-born photographer.

The civil ceremony was performed without announcement by a justice of the peace in neighboring New Milford Saturday. The marriage came to light yesterday.

The marriage is the third for the author, whose play "Death of a Salesman" received a Pulitzer prize.

Dominican Trouble

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican Republic was held under a state of emergency today as authorities clamped down on terrorists accused of trying to restore dictatorship.

President Rafael Bonnelly's government went into action as vandals set fire to cane fields and sugar mills in the worst flareup since last month's abortive military coup was quelled.

Bonnelly ordered seizure of property belonging to members of the ousted Trujillo dictatorship, charging that his regime was menaced by a conspiracy from both the left and right.

To Orbit Lab

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An orbiting solar observatory, nicknamed Oso, is scheduled to be launched here next week to make the most comprehensive study yet of the sun and how it affects conditions on earth.

Flying in a circular orbit 350 miles above the earth Oso's delicate instruments will be able to take readings uncluttered by the earth's heavy atmosphere.

Major assignment of the 440-pound laboratory will be to measure X-rays and gamma, ultra violet and infrared rays streaming toward earth from the sun. Those potentially deadly particles are absorbed or distorted by the atmosphere and thus are prevented from reaching earth.

Scientists feel the rays and the directions in which they travel hold clues to the origin and history of the solar system.

New City Hall Beside Canal Is Proposed By Councilman

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A city hall set in an eight-acre park beside the San Rafael Canal was proposed yesterday by City Councilman Fred E. Jensen.

The City of San Rafael already owns the acreage. Part of it is used for the city corporation yard; the rest is leased for industrial uses.

Jensen advanced the idea at a luncheon discussion of city council members with Lawrence Albrecht, western division manager for Ebasco Services, and Edward G. Walsh, Ebasco field man who recently completed a study of city hall needs for San Rafael.

Walsh's report advocated selling the canal property, relocating the corporation yards on what is now a municipal parking lot at Lincoln Avenue and Second Street, and building a new city hall on a 2.16-acre site adjoining the city library on Fifth Avenue.

Mayor John F. McInnis announced the council at its March 5 meeting will set a date for a public hearing on the Ebasco report.

Walsh said several factors mitigated against using the canal side, which fronts on Francisco Boulevard, for a city hall:

1. It is far removed and rather inaccessible from downtown San Rafael.

2. Its surroundings are of a type that would not enhance the center of municipal government, development being principally of light industrial and roadside commercial types.

3. There would be no financial gain, for the city, as the canal property probably could be sold enough to buy the Fifth Avenue site.

As to the last point, Jensen retorted, "Yes, but we'd be trading eight acres for two."

Councilmen Jensen, David Menary Jr. and Louis H. Baar questioned how much damage to the downtown area would be done by moving the city hall away from it. Jensen contended locating the city hall on the canal property would help to "save Francisco Boulevard."

"This is a matter close to my heart, and one I have given a lot of study," said Albrecht. To remove the city hall from proximity to downtown might mean "a ghost downtown within 10 years," he declared.

Removal of the county courthouse will tend to depreciate downtown San Rafael, Albrecht said. If the city hall were to move away, too, "there is an apparency of lack of confidence in your own city," he asserted.

Mayor McInnis pointed out that freeway relocation will put the corporation yard site virtually in the shadow of an on-ramp. He questioned whether such would be a suitable location for a city hall.

Welsh asserted his studies showed the 2.16 acres would be sufficient for predictable needs for a city hall, plus central police station and firehouse, until the year 2000—although parking would have to be double-decked within about 20 years.

Welsh listed features in which the Fifth Avenue site excelled several others on the perimeter of the downtown area, including the E Street School, which he studied. None of the councilmen argued for any of the other sites.

Jensen said "we could build right now" on the corporation yard site, but suggested that if it were necessary to buy land, a bond issue might be needed —and might be hard to pass.

Mayor McInnis stressed that the discussion was purely exploratory and to get reasoning behind some of the conclusions in Welsh's report. He said Welsh would be present to explain his report at the public hearing.

Proceeds from the $1 admission will be used for the volunteers' sick and relief fund. On the ladder from top down, are Capt. John Diego, George Canessa, Dan Tuohy.

900 Stolen Checks In Forgers' Hands —Several Cashed

Nine hundred company checks stolen from the Marin Land Co. of 650 Redwood Highway, Strawberry, are in the hands of forgers who have been cashing them in Palo Alto, San Francisco and [illegible], Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos warned today.

Twenty-six of the worthless checks, passed by a young woman and a man, already have turned up, and the loss thus far is more than $1,500. A check protector had been used in all cases.

Stolen were 300 cinnamon colored blank checks of the Marin Land Co. numbered from 1,601 to 1,900; 300 blueish-colored checks of Samuel R. Neider Realty Investments numbered 6,700 to 6,999; and 300 beige or stone colored checks of Neider Enterprises numbered 1,000 to 1,300.

Sheriff's Inspectors Bowen Bridges and Harold V. Sleezer were seeking a woman about 25 years old, five feet five to eight inches tall, with auburn-dyed hair, using the name of Evelyn Watson, and a man identifying himself as R. McAdams.

Bridges said the woman has passed checks written on the Marin Land blanks, which feature photographic reproductions of the downtown San Francisco skyline and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge; and the man has passed checks written on the Neider Enterprises blanks.

All checks so far have been signed with the name of Neider, who died Jan. 11.

Bridges said the woman carries a "fist full of gasoline credit cards" in the name of George Watson.

The Marin Land Co. office was burglarized on Feb. 13 or 14, reported Frank Gallo of San Francisco, an employee.

The worthless checks began turning up Feb. 14.

At first only a Sears-Tower portable typewriter (made by Smith-Corona) was believed stolen. This morning Bridges announced the 900 blank checks had been taken and the forged paper was beginning to turn up.

The thief or thieves pried open a windowed door of the office to gain entrance. They were writing the worthless checks in amounts of $55, $63, $73 and $127.17.

Home Is Hit For $3,000 By Burglar

Several furs and a man's topcoat valued at a total of $3,030 were taken in a burglary of his home at 120 Rancheria Road, Kent Woolands, Donald B. Albertsen, travel agency owner, complained to the Marin sheriff's office last night.

The entire house was ransacked by the thief or thieves, who paused long enough to prowl the refrigerator and have a glass of milk, Albertsen said.

He reported the loss included a brown mink stole value at $2,200; a brown mink neckpiece, consisting of three furs, valued at $400; a brown-eyed squirrel stole worth $350, and a brown man's topcoat valued at $80.

Entrance was gained through a laundry room door some time between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. while Albertsen and his wife were away from their one-story frame residence. The burglar cut through a screen and then broke the window in the door.

DAVID W. JACKSON
New Branson Headmaster

New Head Is Named At Branson

A new headmaster has been named for the Katharine Branson School in Ross, trustees of the school announced today.

David W. Jackson, former instructor and acting headmaster at Fountain Valley School, Colorado Springs, Colo., will take over his duties at the Ross girls' school in September.

He is a graduate of Williams College and has been active in the Colorado Springs Episcopal Church. Jackson, 33, is married and has three children.

Katheraine Branson of Carmel, the school's founder, has been acting as headmaster since the resignation last year of Mrs. Virginia Jennings.

Concert Set Monday At Dominican

A concert of vocal music by California composers will be presented Monday at 8 p.m. in Meadowlands Hall at Dominican College, San Rafael.

The program has been arranged by Alden Gilchrist of the University of California at Berkeley and will include two of his own compositions and songs by Darius Milhaud, Wallace Berry, Jonathan Elkus, James Cleghorn, Kirke L. Mechem, Arnold Elston, Andrew Imbrie and William Bergsma.

San Francisco Opera mezzo-soprano Margot Blum, tenor James Schwabacher and bass-bariton James Standard will be featured, accompanied by Gilchrist.

The concert will be sponsored by the Dominican College Music Club and will be submitted in the Parade of American Music contest of the National Federation of Music Clubs. The Dominican club has won five awards in previous contests.

Boy Wins Speech Contest

Frank Morse, 17-year-old San Rafael High School senior of 20 Maplewood Drive, San Rafael, won the San Rafael Lions Club annual speakers contest with his talk on "My Responsibility in a Changing World," Glade R. Grenke, in charge of the contest, announced today.

The talks by Morse and three other students, who tied for second place, were given at the club's meeting yesterday noon at the Travelers Inn. All received trophies. Morse will represent the club in the county-wide competition to be held March 13 at a place to be selected later.

The other speakers were: Susan Denman, 17, of 19 Pine Street, San Rafael, a Marin High School senior; Suzanne Lyons, 17, of Morrison Road, Ross, Marin Catholic senior; and Barbara Barnum, 16, of 262 Los Lomas Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, a junior at Dominican High School.

Judges were Lothar Salin, Harry Williams and Clinton F. DeLap.

Sports Conference Board Vote: 2-2

A request for county funds for an approaching "sports injury conference" failed only by a tied 2-2 vote in the Marin County Board of Supervisors Tuesday, rather than losing 3-1 as erroneously reported by the Independent-Journal.

It is therefore expected that the matter will come up again next Tuesday when Supervisor William D. Fusselman is expected to be present to cast a deciding vote.

Labor Unit Re-Elects Officers

Unopposed incumbent officers of the Marin County Labor Council were re-elected last night to one-year terms.

George Goodfellow of Tamalpais Valley, a member of Laborers Local 291 of San Rafael, was elected to his third straight term as council president.

Robert Alander of Carpenters Local 1710 was elected vice president. Robert Palmer, Carpenters Local 35, had been nominated but withdrew.

Hugh Cassidy, State Employes Local 411, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Trustees elected were Lloyd Brooks of Laborers Local 291; Terry Haag, Office Employes Local 3; and A. F. Mello, State Employes Local 411.

John Daly, Machinists Local 238, was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Elected to the executive board were Tom Beyers, Machinists 238; Pat Dailey, Bartenders 126; Paul Crumley, Carpenters 35; Jim Smith, Butchers 115; Charles Weers, Sheetmetal Workers 75; and Harry Reed, Painters 83.

Dixie School Addition Low Bid Accepted

Dixie School District trustees last night accepted a low bid of $166,050 from Fostmeier Construction Co. of Petaluma for an addition to Don Timoteo School.

Work is to include construction of seven classrooms with a smaller room for special class use as well as playground equipment and site development.

All eight bidders were under the architect's estimate of $185,891, the highest bid being that of Herrero Bros. of San Francisco, $183,797.

Other bids were: Wright and Oretsky of Santa Rosa, $178,050; W. J. Kubon of San Rafael, $178,664; Christensen and Foster, $167,146; Todd Construction Co., $174,090; Rapp Construction Co., $173,000; and Olsen Construction Co. of Santa Rosa, $169,885.

Sunday, opposed federal aid but said she might change.

"I'm apprehensive about the control that goes along with federal aid," said Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of the Marin County Board of Education. She is also a member of the state board of the national Congress of Parents and Teachers and noted that though nationally the congress favors federal aid, the California Congress "is a holdout."

"We are committed to a restudy through which my opinion may be changed," she said, "though I doubt it."

Mrs. Alpers said that the state already controls much in the realm of education and "if we get federal aid, implicit in this is some form of federal control."

As a parent of children in parochial schools, San Rafael attorney Peter Allen Smith took the view that if federal aid is to be given, some should flow to private schools in all fairness.

"Maximum development of every young American's capacity is the aim," said Smith.

"In justice, private school children should be given the right to participate and all should share in the benefit."

In response to a listener's question as to whether it wouldn't me more profitable to put money into teachers rather than administrators, three panelists wanted proper pay for both. Willis, as the one administrator present, put his view succinctly: "All agree that the strongest teachers go where you have the best administrator."

Seminary Music Program Tonight

A program of sacred music will be presented at 8 p.m. today at the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary in connection with a three-day 10th annual church music workshop.

The program, to be given in Broadus Hall, will be by the chapel choir, according to Dr. Carlyle D. Bennett, director. The workshop is expected to attract 800 music leaders and choir members from California.

New County Employee Officers

William C. Bradley, chief deputy county coroner-public administrator, was inducted into office as new president of the Marin County Employees Assn. at its annual dinner attended by 270 at the Wye Club in San Rafael last night.

Les Wider of the Public Works Department became vice president, Mrs. Jean Smith of Civil Defense is secretary and Deputy County Clerk George Gnoss is treasurer.

New directors are William Sullivan of the Public Works Department, Thomas Campanella of the Welfare Department, Leona Meysenbourg of the Health Department and Betty Hayes of the Welfare Department.

Holdover directors include Paul Elipoulos of the Auditor's Office, Maryde Dersheimer of the School Department and Doris Bradford of the Welfare Department.

Master of ceremonies was County Counsel E. Warren McGuire.

Municipal Judge Leonard A. Thomas gave a judge's-eye view of the press and of his own work.

Audubon Society Gives Scholarships

Two scholarships have been awarded by the Marin Audubon Society of Marin school teachers to attend summer camps in conservation education.

Winners of the scholarships are Mrs. Aura M. Estes of 31 Belle Avenue, San Rafael, science instructor at San Rafael High School; and Mrs. Marjorie Sutthoff of 101 Santa Rosa Street, Sausalito, fourth grade teacher at the Bayside School.

They may attend a two-week summer session at the National Audubon Camp at Sugar Bowl Lodge in the Sierra Nevada.

Lagunitas School Board Is Meeting

Personnel, building, curriculum and budget were discussed by the Lagunitas School District board meeting last night—but no conclusions were reached.

In the personnel session, trustees heard evaluation reports in consideration of which teachers to rehire. Heaters and other features of the new school buildings were discussed.

The curriculum report of a citizens committee was discussed in terms of whether the district could carry out the recommendations without expanding the budget and increasing the tax rate.

Smoke Scare Routs 6 Restaurant Customers

Six customers were routed out of Jacques Restaurant at 52 Throckmorton Avenue in Mill Valley shortly before noon today when smoke was seen coming from a neon sign above the front door. Exact cause was undetermined.

Owner Jacques Beular estimated damages to be at least $1,000.

$42 Radio Taken

Someone stole a General Electric radio valued at $42 from his 1930 Model A Ford two-door convertible between 9 p.m. yesterday and 12:15 a.m. today, Dave John Della Santina of 345 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, reported to police. It was not a car radio but had been hooked to a speaker in the dashboard.

Mill Valley Methodist Banquet Set

The Mill Valley Methodist Church will hold its third annual church banquet at 7 p.m. March 2 at the church at Camino Alto and Sycamore Avenue.

Proceeds will be used for the church's scholarship fund, a rotating fund used to help young people of the church to obtain higher education.

Cecil Whitebone of San Francisco, who has traveled in Russia, will speak on "Why Russia Acts as She Does." The dinner, under chairman Robert Best, is being provided by the Womans Society of Christian Service. Tickets may be reserved at the church office, according to Mrs. Betty Imlach, publicity chairman.

Groceries Stolen

While his unlocked car was parked near Hartzell School in Terra Linda last night, someone took a bag of groceries and cigarettes valued at $12 from the front seat, John F. Ready of 457 Nova Albion Way, Terra Linda, complained to San Rafael police.

City Council In Mill Valley Tables Plan To Annex Capps-Cascade Land

The Mill Valley City Council, faced with heavy opposition on the city's proposed annexation of Capps-Cascade lands, last night tabled the matter.

At one point Councilman Michael Wornum asked, "is anyone in favor?" Mayor Robert D. Huber replied, "Not a soul I know of."

The city had proposed to annex 161 acres of Marin Municipal Water District property and 35 acres of land owned by Maurice H. Capps on the east slope of Mount Tamalpais.

The land to be transferred from county to city so if the land were sold to developers, the city would have control over zoning.

Wornum said: "We might have lost the battle but not necessarily the war.' He moved the council send a letter to the county board of supervisors supporting their action yesterday in seeking to make water district land "open area." The motion was passed 4-0, Councilman George Blackwell absent.

Councilman George D. Monardo suggested the city try to get the land into a state park. Assemblyman William T. Bagley, present on another matter, assured the council he would discuss this with the State Division of Beaches and Parks, making the request.

"We have worked very hard to try to annex this property which we thought was in the best interests of the whole area. It is very disappointing," Huber said.

Speaking against annexation were Margaret Hardy of the Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. and developer Harry Johnson, who owns adjacent land.

A letter was read from Maurice Capps saying he had changed his mind about annexation, mainly because he wanted to keep his neighbors as friends.

The council also voted 4-0 that four acres of Biggio property at 134 Camino Alto, next to Project 17, be zoned from residential to commercial-recreational. Bagley, representing Biggio, agreed that the council could have the final word on a use permit for the area.

The council also:

1. Awarded a $4,430 contract to Ghilotti Bros. Inc. of San Rafael for resurfacing portions of Elm Avenue.
2. Adopted an ordinance changing classification of 17.85 acres of land as Cushing Drive and Greenwood Way to single-family residential.
3. Set March 1 as a work session with the planning commission on the master plan.
4. Voted 3-1, Monardo dissenting, to approve the tentative map for Alta Mesa subdivision, a portion of Garden Hill unit 2, which includes 25 building sites with a minimum of 15,000 square foot per site.
5. Authorized signatures of agreement with Tamalpais Union High School District for Miller Avenue improvements near the high school.
6. Approved construction of a foot bridge across Corte Madera Del Presidio Creek behind the Mill Valley Baptist Church.
7. Approved purchase of $150 in plates, and cutlery for municipal golf clubhouse.
8. Moved "no action" on a request from Rev. G. Russell Oaks of Mill Valley Methodist Church, for permission to use outdoor speakers for chimes to be played at 9:30 and 10:45 a.m. on Sundays.
9. Approved a street light for 11-15 Altamont Avenue.
10. Approved warrants of $89,950.

3 Boys Bitten By Same Dog In Mill Valley

Three boys were reported bitten by the same dog Tuesday in Mill Valley.

According to police, Michael Mann, 10, and his brother, Randy Mann, 12, were bitten at 4:25 p.m. by a dog near Miller Avenue and Evergreen Avenue. The boys, of 10 Lehman Way, were treated by their doctor.

Paul Gatefield, 10, 20 Sunnyside Avenue, was bitten at 4:30 p.m. while riding his bicylce on Evergreen Avenue, police said.

The dog was identified as belonging to Mrs. C. I. Wylie of 31 Evergreen Avenue. She was asked by police to confine the animal.

California Men Not Joining P-TA

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Men in California are not joining the Parent-Teacher Assn. as fast as men in other states.

According to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, there are 4,220 P-TA members in the state, of which 377, or nine per cent, are men.

The percentage is the lowest in the nation. The national association says that the national average is 32 per cent.

Employees Pension Plan Study Urged

Mill Valley City Councilman George D. Monardo hammered insistently at his fellow councilmen last night urging the city to help city employees in their study of a possible new pension plan. Monardo's colleagues said this was not the time.

It was decided that City Manager A. E. Almcrants, who himself said "This is not city business but an employees organization," would research it.

On Jan. 31, 38 employees agreed unanimously to investigate dropping their present pension system with a private company and to join the State Employees' Retirement System. Reason, according to police Sgt. Ben Hartwell, was they are not satisfied with the present system.

"These are our employees and we should take an interest in them and look into a program," said Monardo. "I don't want them coming here and giving us a bad time . . . better have happy employees than have them on the other side of the fence." He continued, "I don't want something that is like Sausalito. When you have the unions around, you're not only asking for trouble, you have got it."

"Until we have something concrete," Mayor Robert D. Huber observed, "I don't think it's any of our business."

Almcrants said he would be on "shaky ground in between council and employees' but he would research the matter.

"Come July 1, you will recommend salary increases," said Monardo.

"I sure will," said Almcrants.

DOPE KNOWLEDGE DENIED IN COURT

Mother Of Slain Convict Claims Ignorance In Carrying Narcotics

Marie Frances Hall, 47, of Hayward, mother of slain convict Thomas Devers, yesterday denied she knew anything about peyote, or heroin, when she took packages into San Quentin Prison last year.

Mrs. Hall and three others are charged with conspiracy to smuggle about $18,000 worth of narcotics into San Quentin. Trial, before Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court, is scheduled to resume tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Under cross-examination by Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales, Mrs. Hall said she took packages into prison only because her son needed them to pay gambling debts.

One package contained what appeared to be just ordinary dry weeds, and another contained a beige-colored powder. She said she never questioned what the substances were.

Mrs. Hall said her son never used narcotics. "If I knew he was addicted, I would have killed him myself—it's a most despicable crime!" she screamed.

As the prosecutor phrased question after question, Mrs. Hall at one point declared: "You're trying to confuse me, but you're not going to."

Mrs. Hall said the word "weeds" meant nothing more to her than dry grass, and the only "buttons" she knew were the kind sewn on shirts. She had no idea "weeds" were marijuana and "buttons" referred to peyote buttons.

Mrs. Hall's description of a narcotic plant sent the jury into gales of laughter. "It looks like a marigold," she said. "In fact the judge has one in his chambers that looks just like it."

Judge Brusatori still has under submission another motion for mistrial—on grounds that Inspector Donald E. Midyett of the district attorney's office had picked up two jurors for a few blocks ride to the courthouse yesterday.

Publishing Firm Contest Based On Marin Poet's Idea

A New York publishing firm has announced a contest based upon a new verse form created by Mill Valley poet John Milton Hagen.

A. S. Barnes and Co., Inc., publishers of Hagen's latest book of poems, "The Shrewd Nude," will offer $250 in cash prizes for the best humorous or light verse ranging from four to eight lines in length and utilizing the new form which rhymes the first instead of the last words of lines.

Entries are to be addressed to "The Shrewd Nude," care of A. S. Barnes and Co., 11 East 36th Street, New York, N.Y. Deadline is June 30.

"The Shrewd Nude" is currently headed for its third printing.

Marine World Is Called Out Of Character

The proposed four-million-dollar Marine World recreational devedopment last night was denounced by the Mill Valley Citizens Advisory Committee as having a concept not in keeping with the character of Mill Valley.

"The whole concept of the Marine World with attendant restaurant, cocktail lounge, gondolas and amusement park atmosphere in an 18-acre area is not in keeping with the general first-class residential character of Mill Valley," the committee said in a memorandum presented last night to the city council.

Dr. Alfred J. Rider, chairman of the committee formed last week to advise on preservation and improvement of the community, presented the memorandum.

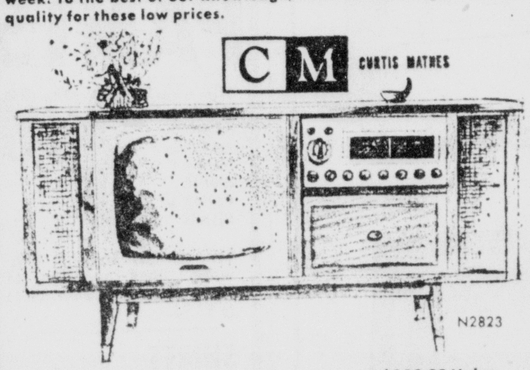

It said the 18 acres was not meant for exploitation but as a recreation area. The committee asked the city to request other offers, that it not act hastily and that it seek expressions from interested parties such as school districts, businesses, churches, the State Division of Parks and Recreation and Division of Highways as well as the Golden Gate Bridge Board.

The council took no action. Mayor Robert D. Huber reported on a work session on Marine World held Monday, saying an appraisal of the land has been ordered from Robert Miller, Sausalito real estate broker.

The council decided to ask the planning commission to study the proposal from a planning viewpoint.

"HELLO, WOOMERA, THIS IS MERCURY!" Alone in outer space, America's Astronaut talked to Earth loud and clear. He was monitored by a world-wide, 18-station communications and tracking network, with outposts in such places as Zanzibar in Africa and Woomera, Australia. The network was built for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Project Mercury by a Bell System-led team. This is another way telephone people are helping the nation keep scientific leadership in a fast-changing world.

GLENN IN ORBIT—Here are four views of John H. Glenn Jr. during his three-orbit space flight Tuesday. Photos inside the capsule were made by an automatically operated motion picture camera. His head turns and his eyes rove as he scans instruments and views the earth spinning below him. (AP Wirephotos)

'Spacetown, U.S.A.' Gets Set For Astronaut Glenn's Return

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The high school band polished its instruments. The mayor prepared a special proclamation. The Chamber of Commerce readied a big red, white and blue "Welcome home, John" banner.

The nearby town of Cocoa Beach, which prides itself as "Spacetown, USA," was getting set to let go tomorrow with a big open-arms greeting to Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., first American to orbit the earth.

The joy was tinged slightly with disappointment.

The townsmen had hoped President John F. Kennedy would ride through on his way to greet Glenn at the cape. But word got around yesterday that the president planned to bypass Cocoa Beach and fly right to this missile test center to give Glenn a medal and make a quick inspection before returning to Palm Beach.

Somewhat ruefully, City Manager Jerry A. Singer said "It would have been a privilege to have the president come into our town. "But he said he understood Kennedy had his reasons for doing it another way.

And, Singer said, it wouldn't prevent this space-age boomtown from showing it is "bursting with pride" at the historic accomplishment scored by Glenn last Tuesday.

Glenn is still on Grank Turk Island in the Bahamas, winding up a series of exhaustive checks in which doctors and psychologists are trying to gauge how he was affected by prolonged weightlessness and other phenomena of flight in space.

So far, Glenn's condition has checked out as excellent.

The astronaut's wife, two children, parents and in-laws were to head South today for their re-union with the Marine lieutenant colonel tomorrow.

And they were going prestige class—as guests of Kennedy on his plane bound from Washington to Palm Beach.

The president invited along Glenn's wife, Anne, their son David, 16, and daughter Lyn, 14; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Glenn Sr., and Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Castor, Mrs. Glenn's father and mother.

From Palm Beach, the astronaut's relatives were due to turn around and fly here aboard an Air Force plane, with the president following tomorrow.

Kennedy will spend the weekend at the family's winter home at Palm Beach, visiting with his father, Joseph P. Kennedy. The elder Kennedy is recuperating from a stroke suffered Dec. 19. The president's wife and their two children, Caroline, 4, and John Jr., 1, flew to Palm Beach yesterday in the family plane.

At his news conference yesterday Kennedy called Glenn's mission a "magnificent achievement." The president said it goes "far beyond our own time and our own country."

"The success of this flight, the new knowledge it will give us, and the new steps which can now be undertaken, will affect life on this planet for many years to come," he said.

Cocoa Beach, which considers itself Glenn's second home, will show its feelings for him during a slow-moving motorcade which will carry the fair-haired, green-eyed Marine war hero the 20 miles from Patrick Air Force Base to the cape.

Brevard County schools will be out. And thousands of persons from other central Florida communities, perhaps from even further away, are expected to flow into Cocoa Beach and line the broad highway that forms its main street.

Police Chief William M. Walker was bracing for a big traffic snarl, perhaps bigger than the one last Tuesday when about 55,000 persons jammed the beaches to watch Glenn's rocket take off.

Mayor Thomas S. Kennedy (no relation) was drafting a proclamation of welcome to mark Glenn's return.

Many are likely to drive down to Patrick Air Force Base to see Glenn land and possibly witness his reunion with his family.

The motorcade will move from the Air Force base to the south gate of Cape Canaveral, passing under a 100-foot "Welcome home" banner.

Glenn is due to reach the cape's own airfield about 15 minutes before the president's planned touchdown at about 10:30 a.m. There, they will meet again—Glenn visited the president at the White House early this month.

Kennedy probably will look in on the ground control center, heart of the man-in-space operation, and see Pad 14 from which Glenn blasted off.

At Hangar S, where Glenn prepared for his great adventure, Kennedy will present him with the space agency's Distinguished Service Medal—the climax of the day.

The president will return to Palm Beach about noon, and Glenn then will face what promises to be a heavily covered news conference

Three Greenbrae Hilltop Apartments Completed

Schultz Building Co. of Greenbrae has announced completion of three of its four new hilltop apartment buildings on Via Casitas at El Portal, Bon Air.

Living units now ready for occupancy are of the two and three-bedroom type, some of the latter with two baths. Two-bedroom apartments have 884 square feet of floor space; three-bedroom units contain 1,240 square feet.

Featured are all-electric kitchens with automatic dishwashers and disposal units. Cupboards have ash paneling. All apartments have large living rooms with wall to wall nylon carpeting and foam rubber padding, walnut or hardwood wall paneling, full-length windows and television outlets. Bathrooms have canvas walls and full mirror over a built-in vanity.

Other features include private seven-foot balconies for each apartment, carport or closed garage and swimming and wading pool facilities. Buildings are situated to take advantage of the hilltop location which gives unobstructed views of San Francisco Bay or the Marin hills from all windows.

A model unit furnished by Casa Marin of San Rafael is being shown daily at 384 Via Casitas by an apartment manager on the premises.

The new units now bring to a total of 50 the apartment buildings that have been completed by Schultz Building Co. in Bon Air.

Astronaut Saves Skin Diver With Glenn Aid

GRAND TURK ISLAND, Bahamas (UPI)—Back-up astronaut Scott Carpenter was back-up man on a skin diving expedition yesterday, and wound up saving another diver's life.

Carpenter, who dives as a hobby, hauled the unconscious diver to the surface from 80 feet down, and orbital astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. helped pull the diver into the boat, where he quickly recovered.

Carpenter, stand-in pilot for Glenn's orbital flight Tuesday, said he went skin diving off this British tracking station island with two local diving club members whose names he never learned.

They were joined late in the afternoon by Glenn and Dr. William K. Douglas, physician for the astronauts. Glenn and Douglas were taking a break from the day-long briefing sessions Glenn is undergoing here.

One of the local divers went down without a mechanical lung just to see how far down he could go," Carpenter said. Carpenter, wearing a lung, swam along with him "just in case something went wrong."

He said the diver went down to 110 feet, then headed back up and passed out 80 feet under the surface.

"I tried to give him the mouthpiece from my lung, but he was unconscious," Carpenter said. "I just pulled him on up."

Glenn, who did some skin diving himself earlier, using a lung and performing underwater acrobatics, pulled the diver into the boat.

Douglas rushed over from a second boat nearby to work on the diver, but he regained consciousness and apparently suffered no ill effects.

Glenn went back to his briefing session—after another unsuccessful try at spearing fish.

Delay Sentencing Of A. F. Pair

Sentencing of two 34-year-old Air Force sergeants stationed at Hamilton Air Force Base for kiting a paycheck from $118 to $11,800, was postponed yesterday in U.S. District Court until tomorrow at 9:45 a.m.

Alexander A. Isele and Robert Shotter, both of New York and stationed at Western Air Rescue headquarters, were arrested on Feb. 1 by Secret Service agents. After indictment by a federal grand jury, the pair pleaded guilty to raising the amount of the check and depositing it in the San Rafael branch of Wells Fargo Bank.

Sentence will be handed down by Judge George H. Harris.

2 Sedans, Truck To Be Bought By Mill Valley

The City of Mill Valley will purchase two sedans and a one-half ton pickup truck. The cars will be for the use of City Manager A. E. Almcrants and building inspector Preston L. Canfield, and the truck will be used by Ross Benson, superintendent of public works.

Cost of the sedans, Chevy IIs, total $3,438, and truck is $1,709, making an over-all total of $5,147. They are to be bought from Campbell Bishop Chevrolet Co. of Mill Valley.

In a discussion as to whether employees should be allowed to take cars home, Almcrants said he thinks Benson should be allowed to since he gets called out "at any time" and that Canfield should be permitted to take a car home some of the time.

"No argument," the council said.

Tiburon Fire Group Approves Subdivision

The Tiburon Fire Protection District commission last night approved the subdivision map for Francisco Vista, Del Miramar and Mount Tiburon, according to secretary Kelly J. Wheeler.

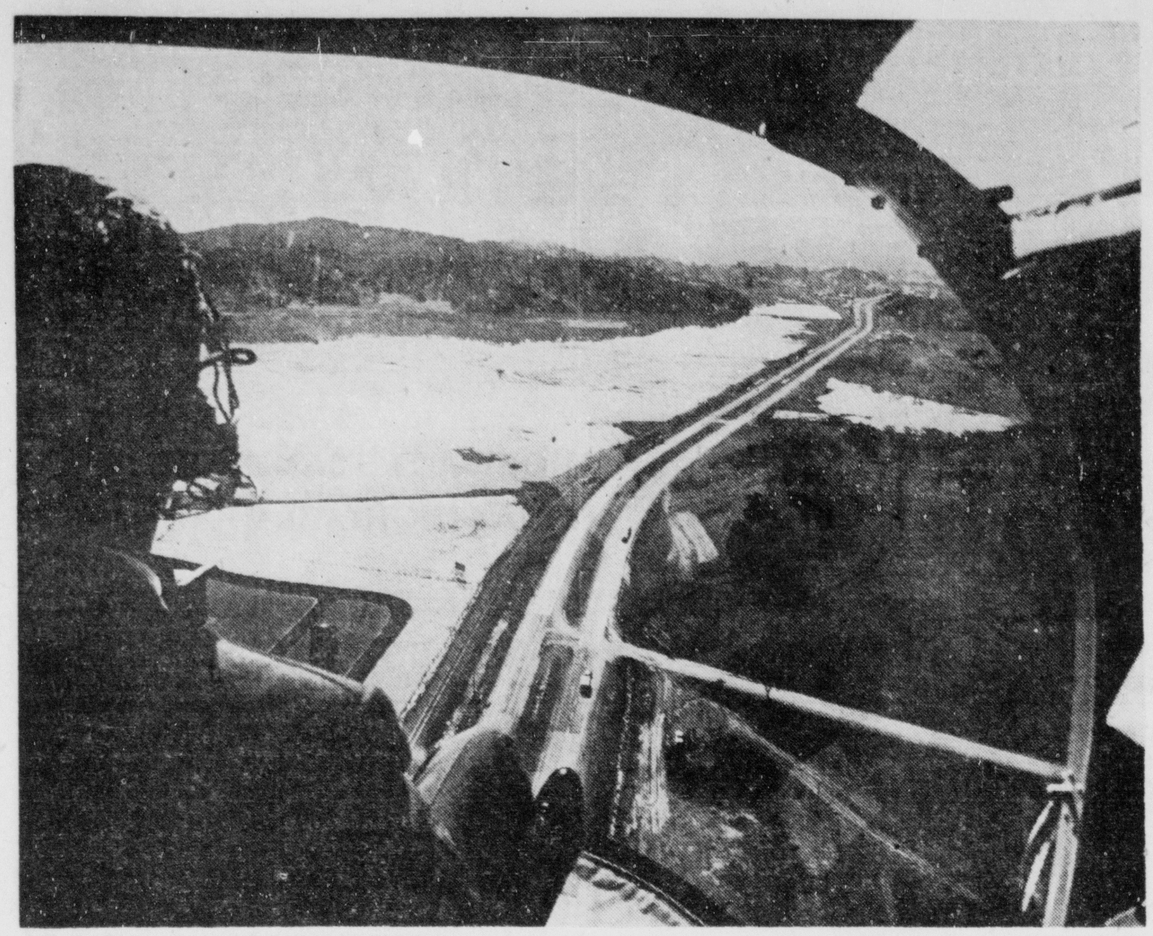

Bills in the amount of $3,529 were paid.

THEY CALL IT 'LAKE NOVATO'

This lake doesn't exist on any map. It is a portion of the Burdell Ranch flooded by recent rains. The water is diminishing a little each day but still is visible from homes in hilly parts of Novato. This photo was taken by Independent-Journal photographer Dick Steinheimer from a Bell helicopter piloted by Fred W. Konkel. The view is of the "lake" and Highway 101 looking south toward Novato.

Loch Lomond Due For Big Expansion

A multi-million dollar project expanding San Rafael's Loch Lomond Marina to double its present size during the next two years has been launched by Robert McCarthy Co. of San Rafael.

According to State Sen. John F. McCarthy, vice president and general manager of the company, the building program will include:

1. Expanding the present shopping center by 18 thousand feet to include a landscaped pedestrian mall and walks.
2. Enlarging the present 25-berth boat harbor by 300 berths.
3. Constructing single and multiple unit housing along the canal as well as a botel.
4. Building a yacht club, restaurant and swimming pool.
5. Increasing present parking facilities.

The San Rafael Planning Commission has granted approval to preliminary plans for the expansion which will cover 40 acres. Approximately 16 acres will be devoted to commercial use, the rest to housing and expansion of the small boat harbor.

"We plan to continue with the marine-type theme of architecture already in use in the present buildings at the Marina," said McCarthy. "When it is completed it will be most different, most outstanding and very beautiful."

The architect for the project is Rolland Brooks Hammond of San Rafael.

McCarthy said that the company plans to ask the San Rafael Planning Commission for architectural approval to begin work on the shopping center during the next two months, with the target date for its completion sometime in the autumn.

"Except for the shopping center, we haven't yet decided the exact order in which we will do the construction." said McCarthy, "but we hope to complete the entire project within the next two years."

Students To Attend Model U.N.

Marin County will be represented at a model United Nations conference in Berkeley tomorrow and Saturday by delegates from five high schools.

The 10th annual model conference will be held at the University of California. Student delegates and observers from 104 California high schools will represent the 104 members of the United Nations. The representatives will attend committee meetings and a banquet Friday and a general assembly Saturday.

Marin representatives are:

Terra Linda High School, representing Russia — Jeff Moss, Judy Knotts, Sandra Eggenberger, Tom Goff and Richard Levaro. Observers: Kathy Twohill, Frank Lindsay, Kris Hotchkiss, Julie Drummond and Marshall Enderby.

Sir Francis Drake High School, representing Saudi Arabia—Bruce Come, Jill Hoffman, Bruce Afnew, Michael Holland and Michele Slavich. Observers: Debbie Rossman, Judy Hull, Todd Morehead, Sergio Pecorelli and Donna Dean.

Marin Catholic High School, representing Yugoslavia—Michael Mellon, Ann Jordan, Robert Wishard, Ray Cless and Kathy Theobald.

Dominican Upper School, representing the Philippines—Margaret Richards, Sheila Farr, Mary Larson, Catharine Atterbury and Sally Buckley. Observers: Polly Riley, Aurelie Shanley, Judy Kehoe, Marie Bertolli and Marianne Petrini.

Tamalpais High School will send five observers: Alison Hood, Penny Iyama, Kathy Heilbron, Peter Liederman and Carol McLaughlin.

San Rafael and Redwood high schools will not take part in the conference this year.

New Grading Ordinance In Larkspur

The Larkspur City Council last night introduced the new city grading and excavation ordinance after digging through it for nearly an hour and a half.

Before unanimously voting to introduce the ordinance, which was drawn up by City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner, the council made a few changes and started digging deeper before Councilman Neil R. Brixon asked, "Are we going to make so many changes we will have to refer it back to the city attorney?"

Among the changes in the ordinance approved last night was shortening the time for persons to appeal the granting of a grading permit from 14 days to five days, after suggestion from Niels Schultz Jr., member of the county planning commission.

The proposed ordinance called for the 14-day appeal time which Schultz called "unreasonable." Schultz, who with his father is developer of Greenbrae, said he was making his suggestions "from the standpoint of the general public."

The council also made some technical changes in words used. City Manager Ronald E. Piper warned the council not to spell out sections too specifically so as to tie up both the applicants and administration.

"I think we can do a good job with this ordinance," Piper said.

The city council also approved four polling places for the April 10 municipal elections

The polling places in Larkspur will be at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School, Henry C. Hall School, Robert H. Busse realty office at 1000 Magnolia Avenue and the Greenbrae Firehouse at South Elisio Drive which is now under construction.

In other business, the council:

1. Introduced a city food handlers ordinance as recommended by the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen.
2. Postponed action on a change in improvement plans for the Larkspur Plaza, which will make the sewage pumping station a temporary installation, until plans are submitted by the developers.
3. Reset for March 7 consideration of a retirement system for city employees.
4. Granted a deed of right-of-way to the Marin Municipal Water District for a pipeline connection in the Madrone Woodlands subdivision.

Blue Rock Apartments' Building Permit Violation Still Unresolved

The question of a building permit violation by Hugh Wood, owner of the Blue Rock Apartments, which has been discussed for months by the Larkspur City Council, is still not resolved.

The Larkspur council last night referred the violation to City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner for his legal opinion.

According to the Larkspur planning Commission, Wood was issued the building permit to construct a deck on the existing Blue Rock Apartment building, but it was not to extend to the ground, thereby cutting off parking space.

However, the construction, partly completed, reaches the ground in what the planners consider a direct violation of the building permit.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper informed councilmen he had recommended the planning commission pass the matter to the council for its appropriate "police action."

Piper told councilmen they could either issue a stop work order on the section of the building which is in violation of the building permit or they could pull back the building permit.

Council Of Mayors Is Called Only 'Knife And Fork' Group

Larkspur City Councilman Lesly A. Daveler last night lashed out at the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen and called the organization a "knife and fork group."

Daveler said he would rather have an organization much stronger than the present council of mayors. "For that reason I am prejudiced to the group," Daveler declared.

He suggested the City of Larkspur should recommend a different type of meeting than the present dinner-meeting type now practiced.

Councilman Daniel Allen defended the council of mayors, saying, "I think the organization has proved its worth in many cases."

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said, "If four or five times out of the year the council of mayors serves a purpose it's well forth it."

Although the council chambers was void of any spectators and only included the council, city manager, city clerk and an Independent-Journal reporter, Mayor Arthur E. Storhaug sensing strong disagreement asked "Is this council in favor of the council of mayors?"

The only councilman to elaborate on the question was James J. Lienkaempe who said "My feelings are a little mixed on it. We need something like the council of mayors. I'm not going to fight it.

Storhaug and Allen said they were going to represent Larkspur at the next meeting of the council af mayors next Wednesday in San Rafael.

Independent-Journal
San Rafael, California

Statement of Policy

Regarding Political Advertising

The Independent-Journal does not aggressively solicit or render copy writing service for political advertisements that are argumentative in content. Political advertisements are construed to be all assertions subject to public controversy, whether or not a public election is involved

Any political advertisement that is not clearly the personal appeal of the elective candidate or candidates involved must show the name of the sponsoring group together with the name or names of one or more persons officiating for such group.

Political advertisements must be submitted in complete and explicit form, ready for the printers, and clearly marked as to size and date of appearance. All political advertisements are payable in advance. Charges are figured at the regular rate.

Advertising deadlines are 4 p.m., two days preceding publication. As example: Tuesday advertisements must be in Friday at 4 p.m.; Monday advertisements must be in the preceding Friday morning. Any intervening holiday advances the deadline by a day.

No responsibility to show printer's proof is assumed under the above schedule.

If a proof is desired, advertisement must be submitted substantially in advance. Corrections, if any, must be ordered by 4 p.m., two working days preceding publication. Any changes from original copy will be charged for on basis of printing work involved.

On the last publication day before an election no political advertisement other than a simple statement of advocacy will be printed. As example: "Vote yes on proposition three," or "Elect John Jones," together with facts as to nature and time of election and, if desired, candidate's party affiliation or occupational identity.

Nearing a public election, no advertisement introducing a new controversial subject will be accepted to run later than the fourth publication day preceding the election. If any new statement or issue should be introduced on the fourth publication day preceding the election, attacking the opposing candidate or issue involved, the newspaper may, at its discretion, make allowance under this rule for the opposing side to answer.

Necessity for the newspaper's disinterested handling of political advertisements is readily apparent. These terms and conditions are adhered to in spirit of fairness to all.

TAM'S WARREN DOMINO

I-J's Prep Of Week A Versatile Athlete

Warren Domino, Tamalpais High varsity guard, has been selected as "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal.

Domino, the Indians' floor leader, was given the award for his work in Tam's upset of Marin Catholic High last Friday. Domino matched the Wildcats' leading scorer Jerry Smith point for point in the final minutes of the game, and tallied the last two points from the free throw line to give Tam a 48-45 upset over the Catholics. Domino has also been a consistently outstanding player throughout the season.

The 6-foot junior has been playing Tam basketball since he was a freshman. He has lettered in varsity football two years and in his sophomore year was one of coach Jim Hanretty's top backfield runners, and this past year one of his best middle safety defensive men as well as an offensive halfback. Warren played Frosh football and ended that season by playing his last game on the junior varsity. The next year he was grabbed by the varsity.

TV AWARD

Domino was awarded the KGO-TV "Prep of the Week" plaque for his performance in a televised game with Marin Catholic last year.

In spring sports, he pole vaulted, ran the 100-yard dash and the relay for Tam. This year, Warren said he will not go out for track, but will consider taking a whack at baseball with coach Ray Bell's varsity squad.

Warren is the son of Mrs. Minnie Domino of 169 Drake Avenue, Marin City. He is also the brother of Delorise, 14, a student at Richard Bay School, and Caudielee, 16, a sophomore and member of the Girls Athletic Assn. at Tam.

The family has resided in Marin since 1953. They originally lived in Houston, Texas.

FAVORS MATH

Domino, whose favorite subjects at Tam are math and physical education, would like to attend college "for a couple of years" after he graduates from Tam. "Maybe San Francisco State . . . I would like to play some ball in college, if possible," says Warren. As soon as the prep season concludes he plans to play for the Marin City Merchants in the San Rafael Recreation Department's adult basketball league.

Domino's last job was assisting a landscaper, and in his spare time he likes to dance and attend jazz and rock and roll concerts in San Francisco and the East Bay.

Saints Clash With Majors At Cow Palace

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Two second-place American Basketball League teams, the Chicago Majors and the San Francisco Saints, play in the Cow Palace tonight, hoping for a larger crowd than they had at their last outing.

Chicago, tied with Cleveland for second in the Eastern Division with 9 wins and 11 losses, and the Saints, 12-9 in the Western Division, drew only 1,156 fans here Tuesday night. The Saints overcame Chicago and long-shot Tony Jackson 119-116 but lost at the ticket window to the telecast of Lt. Col. John Glenn's orbit of the world.

Jackson's six three-pointers kept Chicago close to the front-running San Franciscans. He had a monopoly on the evening's long shots. His 32 points over-all tied Jim Francis of San Francisco for high point honors.

Chicago is expected to rely heavily on Jackson's long ball in tonight's game.

Steers Move Again Toward West Title

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Steers, first half champions, are well on their way to wrapping up the second half title in the Western Division of the American Basketball League.

The Steers chalked up their 17th victory in 11 second half games by walloping the New York Tapers last night 130-109. It was the only league game scheduled and the victory increased the Steers' lead over second place San Francisco to 4½ games.

Royals' Advance Credited Packers

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Cincinnati Royals wind up second in the National Basketball Association's Western Division, much of the credit can be attributed to their ability to beat the Chicago Packers.

The Royals scored 83 points in the first half and went on to drub Chicago 153-125 Wednesday night for the seventh time in eight outings.

The Detroit Pistons, third in the West, kept pace with the runner-up Royals with a 126-123 victory over the St. Louis Hawks. In the only other game, the Syracuse Nats jolted the Philadelphia Warriors 150-109.

Cincy's output set a team scoring high and the 83 points tied a club record for a half-time total.

Sports Have Had Scandalous Record, So Why All The Fuss Over Liston?

CONNOLLY

Sir Galahad certainly wasn't thinking of professional prize fighters when he uttered that famous remark: My strength is as the strength of Ten because my heart is pure."

All of which is a prelude second only to the dispute now raging as to whether or not we should blow the world to pieces in an atomic war, or allow Sonny Liston to win its heavyweight boxing championship.

Kicking the Liston vs. Patterson title fight around has given sports writers the biggest shot in the arm they've had since the Dempsey-Tunney long count.

Most of them seem to say "NO."

The reason for this opinion is that they do not think Liston and his managers are "nice guys."

Which, to me, is the biggest laugh of the century.

Since when did morals and manners have a say in judging prize fights?

TAKE A look back through the history of the professional ring and you'll find few shining knights in either the center of the arena or in its corners. Few, if any, made a pretense of good behaviour.

John L. Sullivan was regarded as a bar-room brawler. He traveled around the country belting the brains out of farmer boys who were tempted by the promise of $50 if they could go three rounds with him.

Liston went to prison for a holdup committed when he was in his teens.

Jack Johnson, who is venerated as one of the greats of the game, went to the same place when he was in his 40s on a White Slave conviction.

In his youth, the now respectable Jack Dempsey was a hobo. During the first world war he was indicted and tried in the Federal Court as a draft evader. His wife was called to the stand as a witness and, being asked her business or profession, answered: "I'm a prostitute."

IT USED to be a bad disposition and crude conduct were expected from prize fighters. Indeed, "Two Ton" Tony Galento, who was actually an amiable character, adopted them for box office purposes. He pretended to train on beer and boasted before every fight: "I'll moider dat bum!"

Professional fighting is generally accepted as the lowest rung in the athletic ladder. You can climb up all the rest of them and find plenty that is distasteful.

In a recent article in "Sports Illustrated," Branch Rickey, former baseball executive, had this to say of Liston: "It's plain greed on the part of somebody that brings a character of that type into public view."

It was also plain greed (and I wonder if Rickey remembers) when Charley Comiskey's "Black Sox" threw the 1919 World Series. We mention this to recall the old adage about glass houses.

THE SELL-OUT by the diamond, heroes was a shocker which opened many eyes to the general corruption in professional sports. Of course, there were many who insisted on believing that it was an isolated incident.

The Sox scandal wasn't the only one either. Remember the Jimmy O'Connell-Cozy Dolan-John McGraw-Frankie Frisch-Heinie Sands scandal? It was quite a wing-ding before Judge Landis squashed it for the good of the game.

Some day we intend to analyze some of those pro football games and try and dope out how a team can beat another 50 to 0 one week and lose 0 to 50 to the same team a few weeks later. We believe that the betting-odds might furnish a lead.

THAT THE gamblers — and when you say "gamblers" include gangsters — can control prize fighters, professional baseball teams and professional football teams should not surprise anyone who has read what they have done with amateur basketball squads.

Nowhere is the seductive power of the dirty dollar better illustrated than in the sacred halls of academe, when college stars accept bribes from the underworld to shave points in heavily bet on games.

A humble, run of the mill sportsscribe, like myself, should probably keep his filthy mind away from the sacred realms of that kingliest of athletes—tennis. Yet, I cannot help but point out that it is not without its scandals—financial and otherwise. Top heavy expense accounts, cushy jobs and similar inducements are employed to bring the most attractive "Queens of the Court"—of both sexes—to participate in tournaments where their presence will give an extra shot in the arm to the take.

IT WOULD seem that this prissiest of sports would simply swoon at the very suspicion of wrong on the part of its elegants. Not at all. Two of its recent and brightest ornaments served prison terms for misconduct. This did not prevent one of them from being elevated to the latest edition to the Hall of Fame—that of tennis, nor the other from marrying one of the world's richest women.

Possibly athletics is only suffering from the general moral malaise which is affecting our culture. It should not be surprising that the musclemen descend to petty larceny when university profs can lend themselves to deceit on TV programs and then commit perjury to get away with it.

GIANT-YANK EXHIBITION RE-SCHEDULED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The New York Yankees and the San Francisco Giants will postpone a planned exhibition game at Candlestick Park until 1963 at the earliest, the Giants management says.

Spokesman for the San Francisco club said yesterday the two teams were unable to find satisfactory open dates for the exhibition game this season.

The two teams played a benefit game last year in New York.

Alston Predicts Hot Race; Bums Will Be Happier Team

By WALTER ALSTON
Manager, L.A. Dodger

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—I expect the customary dogfight for the National League pennant this season.

I know one thing for sure. We're going to have a happier bunch of left-handed hitters. That's because we're moving into the new Dodger Stadium in the Chavez Ravine. The right field fence in the Coliseum was too tough a target even for our best lefty batters such as Duke Snider, Johnny Roseboro, Willie Davis, Ron Fairly and Wally Moon. They are all looking forward to playing at the ravine where the measurements are the same down each foul line, 325 feet.

Our right-handed hitters, Frank Howard, Tommy Davis, Daryl Spencer and Norm Sherry all have enough power to reach the barriers in left field in the new park.

The new park also should make a difference to our pitchers. I know Don Drysdale, Johnny Podres, Sandy Koufax and Stan Williams are capable of winning many games. What we need is for each one of them to have a good year together.

I'm hopeful we will be fortunate enough to come up with another starting pitcher. We have more doubleheaders on our schedule than ever before.

We're expecting Howard to make it at first base. If he can't make it, Fairly proved last season he's ready for the job.

The Dodgers have plenty of speed with fellows like Maury Wills, the two Davises, Moon and Gilliam. This again is where our new park will be of great help.

If the pitching holds up the way I expect, we'll be in the thick of the dogfight all the way.

New Equipment Overshadows Athletes
Fiber Glass Pole Latest Controversy

TOM HENSHAW
AP Newsfeatures Writer

One of these days some thoughtful sports editor is going to add to his staff a consulting engineer. And he's going to have the most authoritative sports page in the country.

How else can he keep his readers informed on developments in a field where the equipment they wear or use is making bigger headlines than the athletes themselves?

And who is better equipped than an engineer to discuss such crucial matters as the tensile strength of a fiber glass vault pole or the modulus of resilience residing in a baseball?

It seems to be coming to that.

A few weeks ago, a Marine named John Uelses startled track and field with history's first 16-foot pole vault. But his name wasn't headlined long enough for readers to learn how to pronounce it.

Seems Uelses (pronounced Yule-sess) was using a vaulting pole made of fiber glass, whereas some lesser men, the 15-footers, were using poles made of steel or bamboo to help them over the bar.

Does the fiber glass pole add inches to a vaulter's height? Does it spring him over the bar like a catapult? Should it be ruled illegal? Should Uelses' record count?

So far, no scientist of note has taken Uelses' pole and put it through a series of exhaustive laboratory tests to determine its special properties, if any.

But only last summer they were doing it to baseballs.

It seemed for a while that the ball parks were simply crawling with physicists. They bounced the baseballs, weighed them and even tore them apart to see what made them tick—or rather, quick.

Before the subject was exhausted, some sports pages were starting to read like the annual report of the American Institute of Physics, replete with formulas, logarithms and diagrams.

They proved, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that the baseball used during the 1961 season was livelier than the one used in 1927—and vice versa.

The significance of the dates is that Babe Ruth, using a heavier bat, hit 60 home runs in 154 games in 1927 while Roger Maris, using a lighter and easier to handle bat, hit 61 in 163 games in 1961.

Track and baseball aren't the only sports infected by the equipment virus.

Until the debate simmered down, the information as to whether the goalie wore a mask — and what kind — took precedence over the score in some hockey games.

Does his fiber glass (there's that word again) mask cut down the vision of Jacques Plante of the Montreal Canadiens to the extent that he has difficulty seeing pucks traveling at 90 miles an hour?

Plante and his record say no but we'll never know for sure until some physicist measures the angles of light and puts the figures to his slide rule and comes up with an answer acceptable to the "new" sports pages.

Perhaps, in the not-too-distant future, we shall see the return of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology to prominence as an athletic power.

Not that its athletes will be any better. But its laboratories will be turning out better equipment—and its classrooms will be turning out more authoritative sports writers.

The FISHIN' FOOL

Salmon Trolling Situation Varies; It's Good One Day, Normal The Next

STEVENS

They say variety is the spice of life, but some folks don't care for spices. The salmon hopefuls who arranged for a trip on Saturday made a killing; the Sunday aspirants couldn't leave the home grounds account of weather.

The slightly shrunken fleet that found the winds down and the ocean fairly calm and the fish cooperative on Monday were quite content to settle for somewhat smaller salmon; but perhaps took quicker and easier limits off Duxbury Reef and the Towers areas. Many of the boats were back in harbor with limits for all aboard by 1:30 or 2 p.m. On Tuesday salmon trolling became almost normal. Not such fast action but a fish on quite often. Also, the skippers I heard talking to each other over my Halicrafter agreed that very few undersized fish were being brought aboard and several boats were approaching limits for all aboard.

ACTION WITH salmon to the south (Monterey Bay region) seems to be rather slow, but some fairly nice fish have been taken.

As I have done for many years past, I remind all and sundry that while fresh caught salmon are delicious when fried, broiled, or boiled, home canned salmon are also scrumptuous when properly prepared. I may be biased, but I sincerely believe the home canned variety is more tasty than what you buy in a store, and it sure is a lot cheaper. Also it is very easy to do such canning at home. Really nothing to it. All you need is a couple fish, a dozen or so mason jars and the ability to follow directions.

I HAVE a hundred or more typewritten recipes for the "cold-packing" of salmon, along with a dozen or more swell recipes for the making of many salmon dishes. If you wish one of these pamphlets (23 recipes plus Mrs. Detrick's recipe for cold packing salmon) send me a self-addressed, legal size envelope (stamped) and I'll mail one to you pronto. That's fair, isn't it?

STRIPER STRIVING in the San Pablo Bay waters seems to be picking up a bit. Not hot by any means, but a definite improvement on the Marin side of the bay. From China Camp comes word that at least two avid anglers may be Schenley winners with a 12½-pounder taken by George Roy, and an 11¾-pounder by Al Holet. Alice Quan reported oodles of nice flounders have been coming in to her place daily and many from the wharf.

FRANK JOSEPH of Joseph's Resort at Rodeo gave honorable mention to Tak Noda who took his legal limit of bass from 10½ to 14 pounds while fishing with bullheads at Buoy 10. Frank reported fair fishing close to his wharf with some fish to nine pounds coming in and one five-foot sturgeon taken in the same area.

FROM CROCKETT the word has been rather pessimistic — not many fish and fewer fishermen. Johnny Silvera brought in a 55-inch 30-pound sturgeon but not many bass.

'Sparring Partner' Is Just Too Good

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Lightweight champion Joe Brown was almost kayoed during a training session, but it was a sandbag—not a sparring partner—that hit him.

Brown, who will defend his title Saturday against Carlos Oritz, was working out at his hotel training quarters yesterday when the bag toppled off a platform and glanced off his shoulder. The bag was being used to weight down punching bag apparatus.

Spectators gasped when the sandbag fell. But Brown suffered no apparent injury. He later boxed three fast rounds.

Gael's Steve Gray Tops WCAC Shooters

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Steve Gray of league-leading St. Mary's headed three scoring departments in latest basketball figures released by the West Coast athletic conference.

Gray topped the loop scorers with 22.7 points per game and had hit on 49 per cent from the floor. The slim Gael ace also had gathered in 14.4 per cent of available rebounds to lead that key department.

Tahoe Sports Carnival Slated Saturday, Sunday

STATELINE (Lake Tahoe)—Heavenly Valley becomes the focal point in northern California skiing this weekend with the program being highlighted by the National Four-Way Combined Championship and the Snowshoe Thompson Nordic Combined Saturday and Sunday.

The races are being held in conjunction with the South Tahoe Winter Carnival. The two-day competitive program is as follows:

Saturday — 8 a.m., Cross-Country; 2 p.m., Slalom.

Sunday—9 a.m., Downhill; 1 p.m., Jumping.

Locale of the Snowshoe Thompson cross-country event has been shifted to an area off Highway 50, a half mile west of the community of Al Tahoe.

The four-way, being held at Heavenly Valley for the first time, has created a lot of interest from amateur skiers all over the nation.

Many outstanding stars will make the long trip to Heavenly Valley to compete in this national competition. Included are: Jimmy Guest of the University of Wyoming, winner of the Steamboat Springs, Colo., four-way tourney several weeks ago; Art Bookstrom, 1961 NCAA four-way champion while at Dartmouth; Dick Durrance, Jr., of Dartmouth and the Eastern Ski Assn.; Jim Gaddis, University of Utah; John Blom, of Oslo, Norway, now a student at Denver University, and 1957 Norwegian junior champion in cross-country and slalom.

'Fireball' Roberts Still Winner Of Daytona 500 Race

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Despite a protest by an arch rival, Glenn "Fireball" Roberts is the official winner of the Daytona 500 stock car race held Sunday.

The National Assn. for Stock Car Auto Racing rejected as based on hearsay a contention by Lee Petty of Randleman, N.C., that Roberts' pit crew numbered more than the maximum six authorized.

NASCAR said yesterday an investigation showed no violation by Roberts.

Petty, himself a famed stock car racer, owned the runner-up car which was driven by his son, Richard.

In the race, Roberts finished 27 seconds in the lead and set a world record of 152.529 miles per hour for a continuous 500-mile auto race of any kind.

Stylish Jumps Get Norwegian Title

ZAKOPANE, Poland (AP)—Toralf Engan of Norway won the 70 meter jump in the World Nordic Skiing Championships yesterday.

Engan got off stylish leaps of 231 feet 4 inches and 223 feet one inch in the competition that is judged on both distance and style. He gained 223.6 points.

Antoni Laciak of Poland was second and defending champion Helmuth Recknagel of East Germany third. American jumpers finished out of the running.

William Erickson of Iron Mountain, Mich., made the best American showing, finishing in 16th place.

MARIN'S SOCIAL WHIRL

Bon Voyage Parties Honoring Mrs. June Shaw Haseltine

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Mrs. June Shaw Haseltine of Ross, who leaves soon on a South Pacific cruise, is being honored at several parties. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mason of San Francisco will fete June at a dinner Monday. June's mother, Mrs. Nelson Towne Shaw of San Francisco, will give a farewell tea for her March 1. It will take place at Mrs. Shaw's new home in Sea Cliff in San Francisco. About 50 guests have been invited, many from this side of the bay. Mrs. Harry Baker of San Francisco will be hostess at a luncheon for June, March 8.

On March 18 June will sail aboard the Monterey for a cruise to Honolulu, Tahiti, Australia and New Zealand. As her sons are away at college her Ross home will be occupied during her absence by Dr. and Mrs. Fritz Quinlan of San Francisco.

A LUNCHEON Tuesday marked the first meeting of women members of Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club, who are organizing a women's section of the club. It will be headed by a captain and will be in charge of social events as well as women golfers' activities.

The luncheon was attended by 43 women, many of whom had played golf that day. Jean Enemark, whose husband, Fred, is president of the club, made luncheon arrangements. Jean Joaquin, chef d'cuisine, presented the group with a four-tiered cake. It was decorated in golden brown and green, the club colors, like those of a peacock's train. Topping the cake were a golf club, four golf balls and the message "Good Luck."

A CHAMPAGNE reception was given Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Charles McAllister of San Rafael honoring her son, Albert Hoag Jr. and his bride, the former Judy Young. About 40 guests attended the reception which was concluded with a buffet supper. Judy and Al who were married in Carson City, Nev. Jan. 25 are living in a studio apartment in Fairfax. The bridegroom's father, Albert Hoag, is a Fairfax resident and his grandparents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Costello of San Rafael. The bride, a former New Yorker, teaches in the Pt. Reyes school.

ATTENDING THE fabulous reception following the wedding of Natalie Owings and John Fell Stevenson Saturday in the Big Sur were Mr. and Mrs. Bennet Skewes-Cox of Ross, Mr. and Mrs. William Roth of Sausalito and John Upston of San Francisco, formerly of Ross, and his wife. Guests at the wedding were mostly family members. The ceremony took place at the spectacular home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Alexander Owings. Among those present was the bridegroom's father, Adlai Stevenson. Many residents of the exclusive community gathered, for its biggest event in years, along the highway to watch the national notables and local socialities arriving.

Nepenthe, which is usually closed for the winter, was opened for the large wedding reception by William Fassett, owner of the restaurant. He and his family served champagne and the buffet supper. Arrangements of daffodils and spring flowers were on the long buffet table. White candles in dark green bottles, driftwood and large green glass bubbles enhanced the decor. Phil Stevenson escorted Ann Edmonds of Santa Barbara, who had attended Katharine Branson School with the bride.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY was marked at the Meadow Club today by attendance of about a hundred members and guests. They are playing golf in the afternoon and will remain for the dinner tonight.

Miss Morphy To Be Bride

A recent family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Morphy in San Rafael was the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Louise, to Dr. Laurie Fraser of Palo Alto.

The bride-elect, a graduate of Dominican Convent, attended College of Marin and was graduated from the University of California. She is the sister of Cathleen Morphy, a senior at Marin Catholic High School. Mrs. Matthew Hunt of Napa and the late Ira G. O'Brien of San Francisco and the late Edward A. Morphys of San Anselmo are her grandparents. She is employed with the Mark Hopkins Hotel

The future bridegroom, son of Mrs. Charles S. Fraser of Riverside, and the late Mr. Fraser, was graduated from the University of California School of Veterinary Medicine. He is practicing in Palo Alto.

A summer wedding is planned.

Ann Cantor Will Marry In July

The Alfred Cantors of San Rafael are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Frank Ench III of San Rafael.

The bride-elect was graduated from San Rafael High School and is employed as a dental assistant in Belvedere. She is the sister of Rusty and Steven Cantor of San Rafael and Mrs. Lloyd Whiffin of Mill Valley is her grandmother.

Parents of the future benedict are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ench of San Rafael. He was graduated from Marin Catholic High School and is employed with his father at the Associated Dredging Co., in Sausalito.

Plans are being made for a July wedding.

Nursery School Has Limited Openings

The Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School has a limited number of openings for prekindergartners age 3-5 years.

Under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Whitney and sponsored by the College of Marin as part of its adult education program, the Mill Valley Cooperative Nursery School meets at Almonte Hall from 9 to 11:30 a.m. each weekday morning.

Those interested may call Mrs. Donna Kinney for further information.

Novato Junior Club Luncheon Set Tuesday

The Novato Junior Women's Club will sponsor a "Luncheon is Served" at the Community Club house at 12:30 p.m., on Tuesday.

Proceeds from the luncheon will be added to the club's fund for the purchase of an "Isolette" for the nursery at Novato General Hospital. The Isolette is a special type of incubator which will allow nurses to care for babies without removing them from the controlled temperature of the incubator.

Following the luncheon, the junior women's club plan to have bridge games.

General chairman for the luncheon is Mrs. Alfred James Smith.

Heading the decorations committee will be Mrs. Jack Kidder assisted by Mesdames Marlin Olsen and Kenneth Smythe. Mesdames Donald Cowan, Richard Budde and George McDaniel are in charge of arrangements for bridge. In charge of advance preparations is Mrs. Alan Chisholm aided by Mesdames Robert Berini, Donald Deboi, Peter Ruona and Duane Lodolce. Mrs. Duane Butler will head the clean-up committee assisted by Mesdames Lee Baxter, Lee Hilton, James Robinson and William Walker.

Donating his services to the club was Alfred James Smith who made the posters advertising the luncheon.

Reservations may be made with Mesdames Smith or Olsen.

To Participate

Mrs. Alfred Thomson of San Rafael will be the accompanist for the musical program at the Northern California Cambrian Assn. celebration of St. David's Day Saturday. The celebration will be a banquet and program at the Fairmont Hotel, San Francisco.

CUTTING THE CAKE

Photographed as they cut their cake during the reception at the Lake Merritt Hotel in Oakland, were Lt. (j.g.) and Mrs. Lawrence E. McGovern. They were married in a military wedding on Feb. 10 at St. Lawrence O'Toole's Catholic Church in Oakland. The bride, the former Barbara Ann Phelan, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Phelan of Mill Valley. (Gill photo)

THE PARENTS' CORNER

By RICHMOND BARBOUR, Ph. D
Guidance Counselor

One Third Of High School Students Are Dropping Out

At least one-third of the youngsters who start high school never finish. They drop out before they graduate. Then they loaf around, unable to get jobs. Many of them wind up in trouble. I'm a guidance counselor, and I've worried about drop-outs for years. Now other people are getting interested in them. I'm glad.

How many drop out of school where you live? Is anything done to keep them from quitting? Are there special counselors for them? Do you have special courses and special schools?

Where I work the drop-out rate is less than half the national average. We have special counselors called "visiting teachers." Their job is to help students who are failing, or who are in trouble. They try to spot the reasons for the difficulties. Is it poor reading? Poor home attitudes? Health defects? Mental retardation? Then, the visiting teachers work with the youngsters and their parents to overcome the weaknesses. For most students that is all that's needed.

But we also have three special high schools. If we find a boy or girl who simply can't profit from what's available at his regular school, we send him to one of the special schools. Maybe he's going to be a handworker and is in a school favoring brainworkers. Maybe he is sure to fail at grammar and math but could do well in the right sort of prejob training. Students going to the special schools are counselled carefully. Soon the failures and irritations of their regular schools are forgotten. They begin to flourish, and most of them graduate and become good citizens. It is a thrill to watch them improve.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy went on a weekend campout sponsored by a famous youth organization. The boys were taken to the camp in an open truck. They sat on loose wooden benches. Is this safe?"—Mrs. S. M.

(A) No. It is highly dangerous. Only regular steel-bodied busses should be used to transport children. That organization is negligent.

Ragtime Piano Library Benefit Program Monday

Ragtime pianist Burt Bales will be presented, together with a program of old-time comedy films, by the library committee of Mill Valley's Park School P-TA Monday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

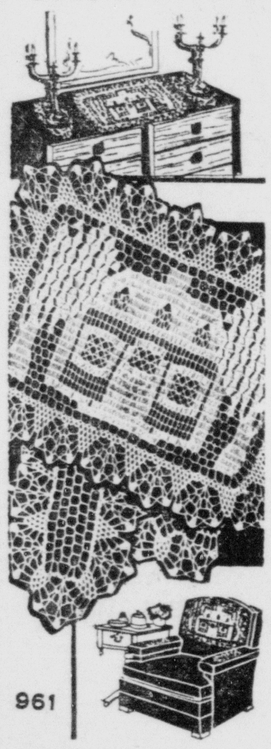

Library committee chairman Mrs. William Thorpe invites the public to attend this benefit to provide funds for more library books.

Bales, who attended Tamalpais High School, now plays at a San Francisco night club and is recognized as one of the top ragtime players in the country. He will perform before, during and after the old-time comedies that will show Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers, Ben Turpin, Fatty Arbuckle, the Keystone Cops and Robert Benchly.

Park School children will see the films during the day, which has been declared library day.

Admission to Monday night's program is by a small donation, and tickets may be obtained either at the Park School library or at the village music store.

Kathleen Miller Weds In Holy Innocents' Episcopal

Holy Innocents' Episcopal Church in Corte Madera was the setting for the Feb. 17 wedding of Kathleen Joanne Miller of Corte Madera and Robert Page Chalstrom of San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miller of Corte Madera.

Officiating for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony was the Rev. Tod W. Ewald.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over chiffon.

Mrs. Robert Scheiner Jr., as matron of honor and Dorothy Wilson as bridesmaid, wore gowns of lace over green chiffon.

Gary Chalstrom served his brother as best man and usher was Robert Scheiner Jr.

A reception for 75 guests followed the ceremony at Rickey's Rancho Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Redwood High School and attended College of Marin. She is employed with Continental Insurance Co., in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hobbs of Sonoma are her grandparents.

The bridegroom was graduated from Lincoln High School and attended San Francisco City College. He operates Chalstrom Construction Co.

Following a wedding trip to Carmel, Yosemite and Las Vegas, the newlyweds will make their home in San Francisco.

Sausalito Club Fashion Show Set March 1

A fashion show will be given following the March 1 business meeting of the Sausalito Woman's Club, according to Mrs. Wiley Smith, president.

The 4 o'clock event has been arranged to show the members the dressmaking prowess of club members who have entered the "Vogue" sewing contest conducted in collaboration with the general Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Henry G. Douglas, chairman, announces that nine club members will model the garments they have made. They are Mesdames John C. Alexander, Robert G. Anderson, Ernest H. King, W. Robert Miller, Martin J. May, Edward Ravizza, Frank E. Rossman, Leonard S. Wood and Mrs. Douglas.

Mrs. Robert F. Crowell will be commentator, and three judges will be Patricia Zinn, a staff member of the women's department of the Independent-Journal; Kathleen Muscetti, sewing teacher at Tamalpais High School, and Mrs. H. Richard Davis of Sausalito, a professional model.

The winner at the Sausalito Club will compete with other local clubs' winners at the next Golden Gate District meeting in March.

Greeting members at the door will be Mesdames W. L. Brown and George R. Chapman. Mrs. Frank J. Enzensperger will do floral decorations, and tea chairman Mrs. Douglas W. Kerr has asked to pour Mesdames Bernard J. Gratama and Clyde F. Trudell.

John Fox Blakemore Claims Bride In Orinda Ceremony

John Fox Blakemore Jr. of Mill Valley claimed Ann Delgado of San Mateo as his bride in a Feb. 10 ceremony which took place at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fox Blakemore or Orinda. Relatives and close friends only were present.

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Delgado of San Mateo, was given in marriage by her father in the single ring ceremony performed at 2:30 p.m. by the Rev. Leon Harris.

She recited her vows in a ballerina length gown of rose point white lace with full skirt and a coronet of seed pearls held her elbow length veil.

Her maid of honor, Jerri Lynn Ridgley of San Mateo, wore a champagne beige chiffon sheath and a matching cage veil.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Jeff Tompkins of Burlingame.

Following the reception held at the Blakemore's home after the ceremony the couple left for a honeymoon in Southern California and now reside in Mill Valley.

The bride is a graduate of Hillsdale High School in San Mateo and was employed before her marriage by an electrical company in San Mateo. She has one sister, Betty Delgado of San Mateo.

Her husband is a graduate of San Rafael Military Academy and Stanford University and is employed as an engineer by the Bergman Manufacturing Company in San Rafael. He has one sister, Jill Blakemore, and a brother, Frank Blakemore, both of Orinda.

Art Guild Organized In Novato

The Novato Art Guild was organized at the home of Mrs. Nevin Kempthorne, artist and teacher, with 22 artists attending.

Mrs. Paul Tunkis was appointed chairman of the newly formed guild, Mrs. R. W. Whitney is secretary and Mrs. L. R. Griswold, treasurer.

Chairmen on the standing committee for a three month period were as follows: program, Mrs. Kempthorne; publicity, Mrs. William Carpenter; hostess, Mrs. B. T. Rigoletti; and exhibits co-chairmen, Mrs. G. A. Lamore, Mrs. D. J. Sayer and John Barends.

The group's aim is to bring together artists and craftsmen for art discussion, programs and exhibits and to encourage active participation of its members.

The guild has scheduled meetings for the second of each month at 2 p.m. to be followed by group showings to the public at 4 p.m.

Anyone wishing to become patrons may contact Mrs. Carpenter.

Nancy Friel Weds In St. Sebastian's

St. Sebastian's Church in Kentfield was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Nancy Friel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elden C. Friel of Greenbrae, and First Lt. William A. McIntyre III.

The Rev. Francis Lacey performed the double ring ceremony for which the bride was given in marriage by her father. She chose a gown of white Chantilly lace with tiers of lace on the full skirt which ended in a chapel length train.

Mary Brocchini was maid of honor, attired in an American beauty brocade satin dress. Bridesmaids were Sandy Rosso and Kathy Penders, wearing similar dresses.

Richard Friel, the bride's brother, was best man for the bridegroom. Ushering were Tom Estes and Frank Friedman.

After the wedding a reception was given at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael. The couple left on a wedding trip to Carmel and will live in Honolulu.

The bride is a graduate of Marin Catholic High School and attended the College of the Holy Names and the University of Hawaii. She is the sister of Richard and John Friel.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McIntyre Jr. of St. Petersburg, Fla. He was graduated from St. Petersburg High School and Auburn University in Alabama and is serving with the Marine Corps in Hawaii.

Music Program Tam Valley P-TA Meeting Topic

Parents will learn the basis on which children are selected to participate in the school's music program at Tuesday's meeting of the Tamalpais Valley P-TA.

Head of instrumental music in Mill Valley schools, David Reed, will speak on this subject and conduct a demonstration class of beginning students and sixth grader Sybil Jenkins will play a solo.

The P-TA has helped to increase the number of instruments available through its instrument fund, but more students want to participate than can be accommodated.

Reed believes interest must start with the child, and if he does not show enough interest to take information home, he is eliminated.

Further elimination takes place when parents do not sign permission slips—when the student does poorly on music test—when the parent does not come for an interview with Reed—when the parents are discouraged by the effort involved in helping the student in his practice—and when there are no instruments available and parents cannot afford to buy one.

Reversible Oven

Isolationism At Grass Roots Changes To Neighborliness

Remember isolationism?

As far as advocacy goes, it died with the start of World War II.

You might say, however, that it died from the top down. And the dying has taken a long time.

Politicians in Washington stopped advocating isolationism as of Dec. 7, 1941. The rest of us, down at the grass roots level, quit thinking isolationism might be a good thing.

But old habits are hard to break and many of us continued to practice isolationism at the grass roots for a long, long time.

But now this appears on the way out, finally.

A fortnight ago at the annual convention of the California Newspaper Publishers Assn. in Coronado, the playing of the Star Spangled Banner was followed by the playing of the national anthem of Mexico.

Also, the introduction of California Gov. Edmund G. Brown was preceded by the introduction of Baja California Gov. Elegio Esquivel Mendez.

Less than one week later in San Francisco at the banquet dedicating PG&E's new Alberta-California gas pipeline, the Star Spangled Banner was followed by the national anthem of Canada. And the introduction of Governor Brown was preceded by the introduction of the chairman of the Canadian National Energy Board, Ian N. McKinnon.

Today, with an American astronaut whisked around the world three times in less than five hours, isolationism has finally given way even at the grass roots to good neighborliness, thank God.

An Example Of Greatness

George Washington, like Abraham Lincoln, had a physical stature to match his greatness. He was six feet, three and a half inches of Virginia gentleman.

No president is immune from criticism and Washington had his share. He was called haughty and falsely accused of pretensions of royalty. This latter charge irritated him the most.

Once a certain Colonel Bland was reported to have remarked that Washington's bow was stiff and haughty. Washington wrote a friend the following comment:

"Would it not be better to throw the veil of charity over them, ascribing their stiffness to the effects of age, or to the unskillfulness of my teacher, than to pride and dignity of office, which God knows has no charms for me? For I can truly say I had rather be at Mount Vernon with a friend or two about me than to be attended at the seat of government by the officers of state and the representatives of every power in Europe . . ."

One historian writes: "Historically every piece of evidence produced by scholars adds to his greatness, regardless of the questionings and doubts raised by some biographers of our time. If a great man is measured by the increase in his stature decade after decade, then Washington was great."

MARIN LOOKS AT POLITICS

Young Engineer —Lawyer—Mother Decides To Run For Congress Too

By CHAPIN A. DAY

H. R. DUBY

The young lady we mentioned a couple of weeks ago who might be interested in running for Congress, has made up her mind. She is at least going to submit her name and qualifications to the Republican First Congressional Committee meeting in Ukiah March 3. She is Harriet Ross Duby of Tiburon, an engineer, lawyer, mother, and active political worker.

That sounds like a pretty big order for a gal who won't be 37 until next month. But these are the facts.

She graduated as a mechanical engineer from Cornell University in 1947. Immediately she came to California, where her parents had moved from her native Newark, N.J. She went to work in engineering, laboring for such organizations as Bechtel Corp., Pacific Gas and Electric, and several engineering consulting firms.

By 1949 she wanted to learn more. She entered night law school at the University of San Francisco and, although still working as an engineer, graduated four years later. She took the state bar examination in the fall of 1953 and was informed in January 1954 that she had passed.

It took her until mid-1954 to complete her engineering commitments, then she became associated with Melvin Belli's law firm. After five and one-half years, she decided to hang out her own shingle—Harriet Ross, Attorney at Law.

Gilbert Duby came along and they were married in 1956. He is an engineer with Merritt, Chapman and Scott, a construction firm which is building, among other things, the Glen Dam in Arizona. They have a 4-year-old daughter, Dorothy. They moved to Marin in 1959.

POLITICALLY she became active in Republican circles in the Eisenhower campaigns. She was national co-chairman of the Youth for Eisenhower activities in Ike's second campaign.

She became involved in this through Young Republican activities in San Mateo County, where she was chapter secretary. Now she has been elected a board member of the Marin chapter.

She calls herself a "moderate" Republican, one who thinks Sen. Barry Goldwater is right about the need to stand firm against Russia, but one who thinks we must give "a helping hand on a larger scale" to under developed nations, providing they are not communistic.

HER DISTRICT program she is still developing. But she has decided that if the Ukiah meeting does not endorse anyone, and friends who see all the GOP candidates think she has a chance, she will stay in the race. If the meeting endorses someone else, she'll probably drop out—money.

Her emergence will give the Ukiah meeting something to ponder. They'll probably have five candidates before them—Supervisor Don Clausen of Crescent City, Mel Larson of Boyes Hot Springs, Tom Cox of Santa Rosa, former candidate Fred Dupuis of Tiburon, and Mrs. Duby.

Quite a selection.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Name Youths In Car Chase

EDITOR:
Independent-Journal:

In the first column on page 7, of the I-J dated Feb. 16, was a story of a hair-raising, 70 mile an hour chase by several Marin officers and all the details of the setting up of a road block in order to arrest three juveniles. Excellently reported except that none of the captured offenders' names were ever mentioned. Not even the driver!

Did your reporter suddenly lose his hearing? He related that, after this escapade, admittedly caused because they were drinking and had "beer" in the car, that they were booked on "suspicion" of these violations—

Imagine being booked on "suspicion" of exceeding the speed limit, "suspicion" of reckless driving, and "suspicion" of evading arrest! Your reporter states boldly that these were the reasons for the pursuit and capture of the unnamed "16 year olds."

Who are they, that they are only under "suspicion" when their acts in violation of the law are vouched for by our own officers?

By way of comparison, I find on the obverse column the repertorially correct account of two juveniles of similar age whose names and deeds were published! They received jail sentences!

I, in the course of my business, traverse these roads that the "16 year olds," in a powerful, late model car, made dangerous for all other traffic.

I feel there should be equal justice for all, both in your publication and by the authorities.

Will you help to rectify this error?

J. PAUL MESSINGER.
San Rafael.

(NOTE: Persons arrested are usually booked at the county jail on suspicion of an offense. A formal complaint must be filed before they are actually charged with the offense. The law permits their being held in jail on suspicion for a specified period of time—the period varying for different types of offenses. As to the names, the Independent-Journal does not customarily use the names of juveniles arrested for misdemeanors.)

Independent-Journal:

California Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has been consistent in his attacks on Dr. Schwarz and his school of anti-communism . . .

The Worker and the Peoples World have attacked Dr. Schwarz and their motivations should be obvious. To the communists, Dr. Schwarz is an enemy and must be discredited at all costs. If the motives of Mosk are puzzling, possibly his actions over the past 20 years will help explain . . .

The Peoples World, West Coast communist publication, records Mosk's public appearances in 1943. He was to be a guest May 30 at a May festival of the Industrial Workers Order, an organization that Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle described in the Congressional Record Sept. 24, 1942, as "one of the strongest communist organizations." In 1944, its president and general secretary, respectively, were William Weiner and Max Bedacht both of whom were officers in the communist party. Mosk was also a speaker at a May meeting for American-Soviet friendship.

On June 22, 1944, Mosk was chairman at a "Tribute to Russia Day" rally.

In 1945, Mosk was appointed chairman of the Southern California clothing drive for the American Committee for Yugoslav Relief. This organization is cited as subversive on the 1955 attorney general's list.

In August, 1956, Mosk was a speaker at a meeting honoring A. L. Wirin, chief counsel for the American Civil Liberties Union. Wirin is a former partner of Leo Gallagher, Los Angeles communist lawyer, and is listed in the California un-American activities reports for 1943, 1947, 1948, 1949 and HCUA reports for 1938, 1940, 1941 and 1943. Wirin also served as defense lawyer for 15 California communists accused of Smith Act violations. He declared before the jury that his clients were "proud to be communists" and accused the government of plotting a reign of terror, violence and sabotage.

This a portion of the record of Stanley Mosk who has seen fit to attack Dr. Schwarz, a Christian who has dedicated his life to the defeat of the communist criminal conspiracy and to the preservation of our liberty.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CARLETON WILLIAMS

Two Runners In Sweatsuits At 5 A.M. Need Investigation

Two young men—so young they are not yet permitted to roam San Rafael streets without an adult between 11 p.m. and daylight — were caught abroad by alert police at the unearthly hour of 5 a.m.

When apprehended, the pair were jogging down Fifth Avenue, clad in sweatshirts, near the San Rafael Military Academy, where they presumably learn the Three Rs and the Facts of Life. Their excuse for violating the curfew law was that they are track team hopefuls and were merely training — under orders.

Their coach, according to their fantastic story, told them that 5 a.m. was an ideal hour for running about the streets.

AS A FORMER inmate of military schools, where I was on bread and water during much of my youth, I find their excuse hard to swallow.

In my brass button days, no coach in his right mind would have told a cadet to do anything other than pound a pillow at 5 a.m. Sleep, we were told, made for strong bodies, alert minds and righteous thoughts, a policy I have adhered to ever since.

If a coach—or a headmaster, for that matter—had suggested running about the streets before daylight, we would have considered him some kind of nut—or something.

I THINK the Case of the Sprinting Students would bear further investigative action, as they say in police circles.

How do we know contraband is not being hustled through our city streets under the innocent guise of athletic endeavor? How do we know the boys are not smuggling banned comic books into any of the girls' boarding schools throughout Marin? Or who knows what? Did it occur to the police to look UNDERNEATH those sweat clothes?

It is enough to give sleeping citizens pause.

FROM THE CRIME front to the political pot: I am happy to report that a new, alive organization, The Greater Marin County Group For Free Democratic Government, has sawed itself off the election limb and come out foursquare for Sally Stanford for Sausalito City Councilman.

According to J. Worthington Dillwott III, secretary of TGMGFFDG, a recent, special meeting of the group was called, the result of a deluge of telephone calls, scores of letters and telegrams which followed "the joyous news that Sally had filed for a council seat."

The membership, Dillwott relates, unanimously approved a letter of congratulations to Miss Stanford, to wit:

"THE NOTICE of your intention to run . . . was greeted with feelings of great joy, not only by your many friends and well wishers in Sausalito, but all high-minded and right-thinking citizens of the fair county of Marin.

"We wish to express our deep appreciation to you for being willing to take time from your many duties to devote part of your time to the general betterment of Sausalito.

"Based on your past record, we feel you are anti-communist, anti-fascist and anti-everything that interferes with the pursuit of freedom and happiness, in the fullest sense of the word, of the citizens of our community as guaranteed by the Constitution.

"There is no doubt, after listening to a variety of councilmen, supervisors, etc., that your parrot, if called upon to also serve, will prove equal if not superior to the many and arduous demands placed on the council."

IN A CITY where the citizens prefer council meetings to movies, I can only add:

It couldn't happen to a nicer person.

LATIN NATIONS COOPERATE?

Alliance For Progress Administrator Worried

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A speech by the administrator of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress (AFP) needs more exposure than it got last week. And, most urgently, it needs more exposure in Latin America, as much exposure as it can get.

AFP is the administration's three billion dollar four-year project to improve social, economic and political conditions in Latin America. This is a starter on a 20 billion dollar project. The administrator is Teodoro Moscoso. Moscoso spoke at the National Press Club. Between the lines of his speech could be read Moscoso's and Kennedy's anxiety about AFP.

THIS ANXIETY reflects U.S. fear that Latin American countries will not undertake the land, tax and other reforms essential to permit AFP to function. Congress will consider the three billion dollar AFP authorization bill next month. Assurance of the good faith of Latin American nations will be demanded by powerful legislators. Failure of such assurance could kill, delay or substantially diminish the project.

Rep. Otto Passman (D-La.) is chairman of the House appropiations subcommittee which will have jurisdiction over the three billion dollar appropriation if Congress first authorizes the sum. Passman told the House this week that AFP was doomed to fail unless the United States insists that the receiving nations firmly undertake the tax and land reforms stipulated and agreed upon.

THAT IS JUST what Moscoso seemed to be talking about last week. He said all Latin American countries signing the AFP charter had obligated themselves to undertake necessary actions, including land reform and more equitable tax structures. Passman claims the Latin Americans are welshing on that. Moscoso seemed to have similar fears.

"We have the job," Moscoso said, "of making sure that it (AFP) is not derailed by extreme right wing elements who oppose social reforms—reforms which they fear would mean the end of their privilege and riches. However, the objective of AFP is not to redistribute the shares of an existing pie. It is to redistribute the shares of a rapidly-growing pie.

"THE RICH need not get poorer as the pie grows, but the poor must certainly become richer. The members of the traditional ruling class who support the AFP and its objectives have nothing to fear.

"But those who try to frustrate the AFP have a great deal to fear—not from the United States but from their own people."

In such language Moscoso tried to reassure the wealthy land owners and other rich elements of Latin America that the proposed reforms will cost them nothing. And in the same language he sought to warn the rich that they must reform or risk political upheaval.

McCARTHY LAST

Christopher Seen Leading Anderson

By MERVIN D. FIELD
Director, The California Poll

Republican Candidate George Christopher is leading Democrat Glenn Anderson for the office of lieutenant governor, according to the latest results of the California Poll. However, Anderson leads another Republican hopeful, State Sen. John F. McCarthy, in a parallel voter preference measurement.

The results of these early measurements of lieutenant governor candidate strength came from the most recent California Poll survey of a sample of more than 1200 representative voters. Each Californian contacted for the survey was given miniature ballots showing party affiliations and present office of the candidates and were asked to indicate his preference "if you were voting today."

Results of the Christopher-Anderson pairing show Christopher in the lead at this time:

If voting today would vote for—	All voters
Christopher	39%
Anderson	32%
Undecided	29%

However, when paired against McCarthy, Anderson is currently favored more often by voters:

If voting today would vote for—	All voters
Anderson	34%
McCarthy	25%
Undecided	41%

Christopher's edge over Anderson results from the fact that he maintains a seven to one edge over Anderson among Republicans, and in addition, polls about one Democratic vote in four of those who express a choice. Slightly more than one-third of the Democrats are undecided when asked to choose between Christopher and Anderson.

Against Anderson, McCarthy attracts a smaller proportion of both Republican and Democratic votes than does Christopher.

However, it is much too early for any candidate to assume that he has a clear cut lead or is hopelessly out of the race. While the lieutenant governorship is the number two executive post in the state, it traditionally does not get as much attention from the voters as do other important state offices. Candidates for this office do not have as much public visibility, and as a consequence hard and fast public attitudes generally are late in forming.

Education Aid Bills Explained By Rep. Miller

By REP. CLEM MILLER

WASHINGTON—Legislation to advance higher education is nearing final stages in Congress.

"How are we to pay for a college education for the children coming on?" worried parents ask again and again. "How is the United States going to get the trained engineers, scientists, and liberal arts graduates that we must have to insure the future success of our country?"

Both the House and the Senate have passed aid-to-higher-education bills.

The greatest difference between the House and Senate versions is a section in the Senate bill authorizing college scholarships. The House bill does not provide for scholarships.

The Senate bill would authorize 924 million dollars over five years for 212,500 four-year college scholarships. Maximum amount for each scholarship would be $1,000 a year. Each state would select scholarship recipients from among its able and needy high school seniors.

Both houses have approved a five-year program of low-interest loans for college and university construction. The House bill (for which I voted) would authorize 120 million dollars a year; the Senate bill, 300 million a year. If loans under the House bill were apportioned according to the number of college students, loans to California colleges would average about $30 per student.

Both houses also have approved a five-year program of matching grants for construction. The House bill sets a ceiling 180 million dollars a year as the federal share of the grants. For California, this would mean, on the average, about $32 per college student.

The Senate bill would authorize matching grants for construction to public junior colleges only and would set the total federal share at 50 million dollars a year. In California, on the average, this would mean about $14 per junior college student.

College of Marin would, of course, be eligible.

The pending legislation does not authorize income-tax deduction for college education expenses, as proposed in another bill of mine. This will have to be handled by the tax-writing committees, rather than by the education committees. It would allow income-tax deduction for tuition, books and living expenses above what it would cost a student to live at home. The deduction could be claimed by parents of a college student or by the student himself.

Most of the loan collection was a gift to the Leeds Art Gallery from the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation. The gallery's permanent art collection will not be available for rentals.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Feb. 22, the 53rd day of the year with 312 to follow in 1962. This is Washington's birthday.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

There are no morning or evening stars.

On this day in history:

In 1962, residents of the Massachusetts Bay Colony tasted their first "popped corn" as friendly Indians shared a thanksgiving dinner.

In 1732, George Washington was born in Wakefield, Va.

In 1819, Florida was ceded to the U.S. in a treaty with Spain.

In 1892, American poetess Edna St. Vincent Millay was born.

In 1931, one hundred women in Miami, Fla., organized a "Carrie Nation Brigade" to fight against bootleggers, speakeasies and gamblers.

A thought for the day: French philosophers and author Voltaire said: "It is better to risk saving a guilty person than to condemn an innocent one."

"Governor Brown, this is 'our boy' Steve"

Governor Edmund G. Brown awards Steven Frazzini the trophy for Outstanding Newspaperboy while Julian C. Leone, I-J Circulation Manager, grins approval.

"GROWING UP ON A PAPER ROUTE"

When I first applied for a paper route, I thought of it only as a chance to earn some money - money for movies, clothes, Scout equipment, trips to the snow, and as an opportunity to start my first savings account. However, once I had the route, it didn't take me long to realize that there was much more to a paper route than just banking money.

Right away I learned that I had to organize my time and habits, because now I had the responsibility of a paper route which required punctuality. I had to throw my papers by five-fifteen every night and collect each month before the tenth.

Dealing with my customers, I learned to be courteous and thoughtful at all times. I acquired some of the traits of a salesman as I competed with newspaperboys of other papers for a prospective customer. I gained a respect for money, and I learned to manage it as each month I handled many times more than I had ever had before. A good part of the money wasn't even mine, either, but belonged to my newspaper.

As an adult, I plan to work with other people, having aimed my vocation for the ministry or law. The nearly three years I have worked as a newspaperboy have helped me to develop some of the qualities which often make a man a success in life.

I realize that many of our country's great men started their careers with a paper route. Although I may never be famous, I certainly plan to be successful in my home, community, and profession. As I attain that success, I will always be grateful for the opportunity of having a paper route and the experiences I gained from it.

Submitted by Steve Frazzini Route 167

I-J newspaperboy picked as one of six finest in all California

It was a big day at Coronado for Steven Frazzini, one of "our boys" who deliver the I-J. The Governor gave the trophy. The members of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association applauded. And we of the Independent-Journal swelled a little. For Steve was chosen one of the six best newspaperboys in the state.

But the real trophy is something Steve made himself, on his I-J newspaper route. He built it with courteous service, punctuality . . . with initiative. He added leadership, scholarship, and ambition for the future. He gained a respect for money, and respect for a job well done. In short, he built the finest trophy of all—character.

He learned, as most newspaperboys do, that a newspaper route delivers to every boy who wants and respects it, an opportunity for personal growth.

Here's Steve's Essay Which Helped Him Win

Steve Frazzini, who attends Terra Linda High School, talks over with Principal Webster Wilson the tough set of qualifications on which he was judged for the award.

Aside from all the personal evaluations, Steve also had to write an essay—brief and to the point. "The judging is so stiff that when I was selected as one of the six boys, I couldn't believe it was me," Steve said.

Modern Diplomat Is A Man Of Decision (In Bridge Play)

How wrong we are to think of a diplomat as the sort of man who bows and waves you on ahead of him. "After you, my dear Gaston," we seem to hear him say. The modern diplomat is a man of decision, as we can see from the 1962 bridge contest conducted for the State Department by Jerry Machlin.

South trumps the second spade, draws trumps and runs the diamonds, getting rid of one club on the fourth diamond. He then tries to win a trick with the king of clubs, but this doesn't work.

Still, South loses only one spade and two clubs. He scores his game and tries not to look too happy about it. It's undiplomatic to gloat.

SAD MISS: If you're looking for a man of decision, he's at another table. East missed his chance to be the hero in this hand.

East should assume that his partner has a five-card spade suit for his overcall. This means that South can have only one spade. The defenders can win only one spade trick—and East must win that trick.

East, if he is a man of decision, must overtake the king of spades with the ace. He returns the queen of clubs, and South goes down before he can get started.

This gives East a chance to look modest and unassuming. It's undiplomatic to gloat, but it's even worse to fumble your assignment.

Answer: Pass. The hand is not quite worth an opening bid. You might open it with a sixth spade or with two five-card suits, but wait for something better when you have such flat distribution.

Prison Artists Donate Work

San Quentin Prison's artists and craftsmen will donate their work to be sold at the City of Hope Bay Area Town Fair and Bazaar again this year.

Paintings, wood carvings, lamps, jewelry and hand-tooled leather goods are being contributed by inmates in the prison's arts and crafts programs, Warden Fred R. Dickson announced. At least one talented artist, paroled during the last year, is also donating his work.

Town Fair, a huge sale of a wide variety of donated new merchandise, is scheduled for March 16 through 19, at the National Guard Armory, 14th and Mission Streets, San Francisco. Proceeds will go to finance research and free medical care in catastrophic diseases at the City of Hope National Medical Center.

'Coffee, Culture' Shop In Tiburon To Open March 6

March 6 has been set for the opening of the Landmark, Tiburons' newest shop which will feature "coffee and culture."

The shop will be operated by the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society and profits will be used to conserve an area adjacent to Old St. Hilary's Church where rare wildflowers grow. The garden was saved from the bulldozer last summer when the society made a down payment on the land with donations received from all parts of the state.

Located at 13 Main Street, the shop will offer books, arts and crifts, collector's items and hot coffee. All merchandise will be donated and the shop will be staffed by volunteers.

Society members and contributors to the wildflower fund will be invited to a preview of the shop at 8 p.m. on March 5. The preview will coincide with the annual meeting of the group.

Exhibits of original arts and crafts will be a regular feature of the shop and a show of donated works is planned for the opening, according to Mrs. Robert Bastian, society president.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Can Business Ups, Downs Be Controlled?

Idea Behind JFK Public Works Standby Proposal

NEW YORK (AP) — How far can major ups and downs in the business cycle be controlled? Can they be licked by government action?

These are the questions behind President John F. Kennedy's request for standby public works spending authority to halt any future sharp rise in unemployment.

EXTREMES

One extreme school of thought is that we already have tamed the business cycle which used periodically to bring on major depressions like the big one in the 1930s. The numerous economic cushions and saefguards set up since then has made any like disaster impossible — according to this school.

At the other end of the economic thinking is the view that the real strength of the business cycle hasn't been tested thoroughly since the 1930s, that it's far from sure yet that a major slump couldn't happen again.

DOWNTRNS

The downturns we've had since World War II—known by the less frightening name of recession—have had their own short-term causes and short-term effects. They show the business cycle still exists, that it is restricted by such cushions as unemployment insurance, and to some extent at least by government pump priming.

The question is whether the cycle can be counted upon to stay short term and relatively mild—and if it can be made even milder.

The president thinks there should be more cushions and that they should be of a preventative or fast acting nature. He wants to be able to start up public works quickly, rather than the present process of voting for it, planning details, and then getting it under way many months after the slump has hit.

JOBLESS

He also wants coverage of state unemployment compensation expanded and benefits enlarged. And he'd like to be in position to cut individual income tax rates fairly quickly to stimulate consumer spending.

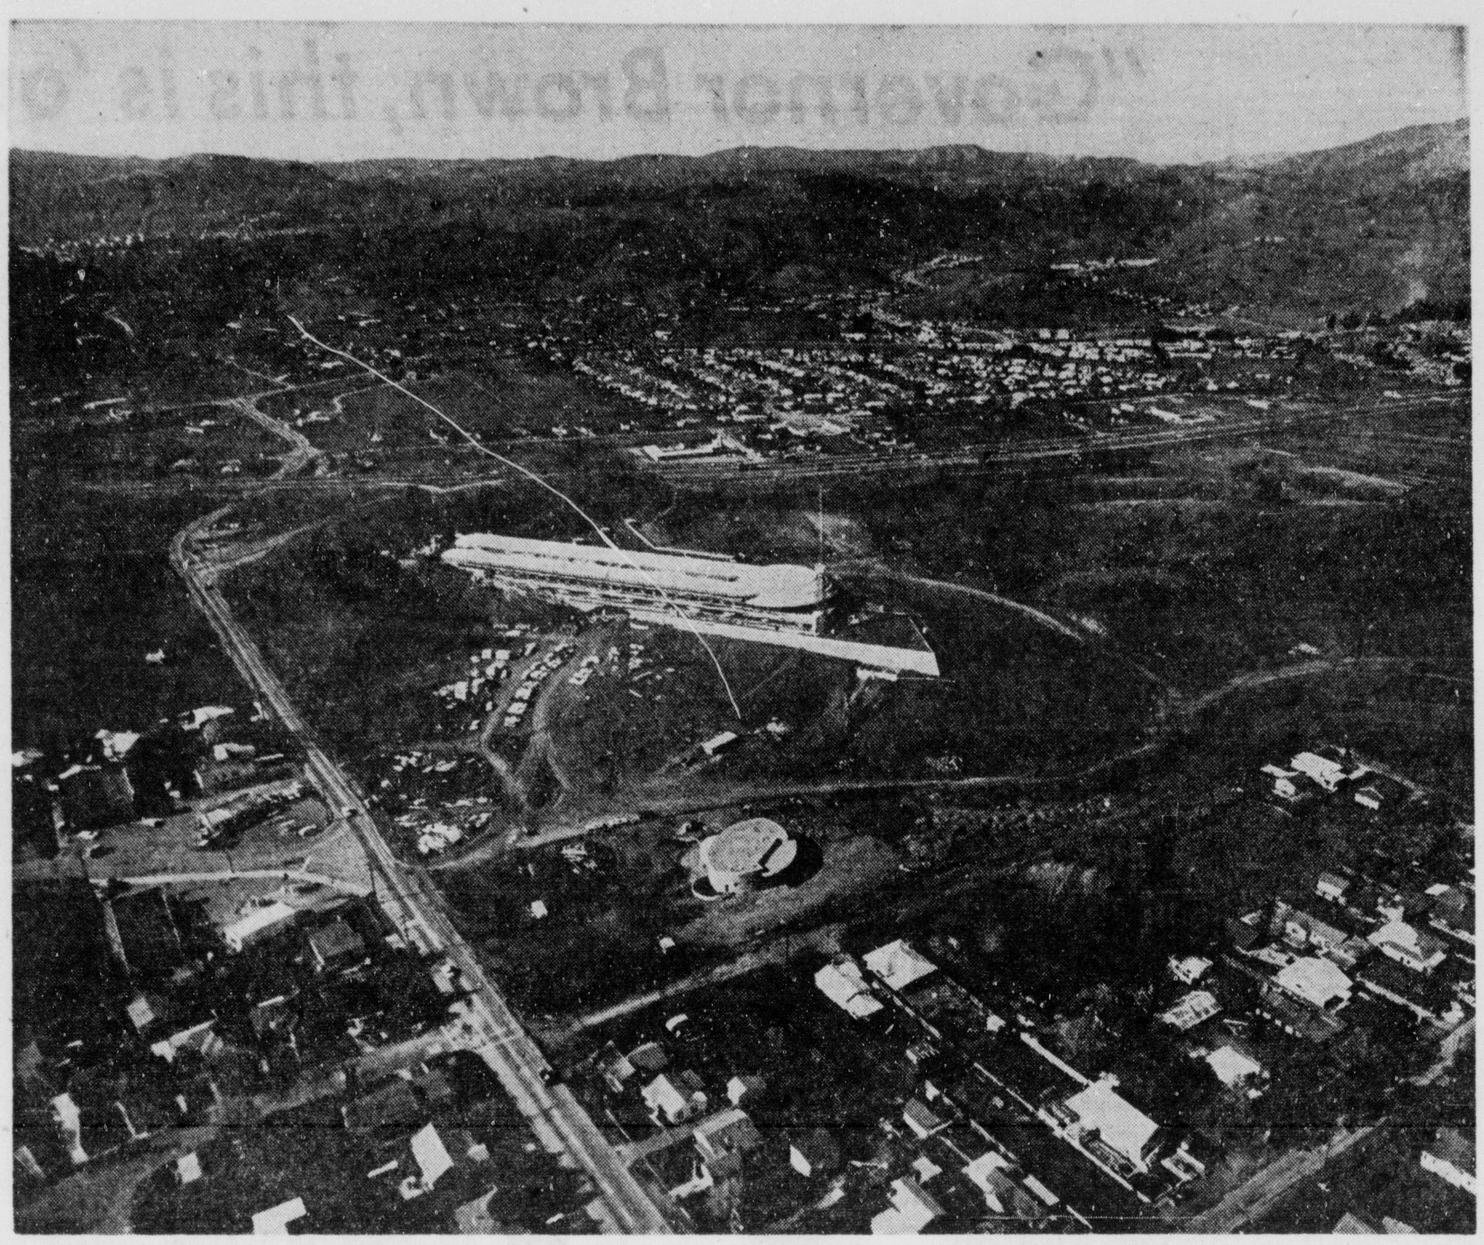

His changes of getting Congress to grant such authority remain to be seen. When times are good or seem likely to improve, Americans in and out of Congress are slow to consider the possibilities of bad times returning.

The relatively quick return of generally prosperous business after each of the postwar recessions has added recruits to the ranks of the believers that the once feared business cycle has been licked.

And, at the other end of the scale, the belief that the business cycle will continue in some form, not matter what the government tries to do about changing the economic laws, dampens enthusiasm for the schemes the President proposes.

Forests, Wildlands

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Nearly half of California's total area of 101,563,520 acres is under federal ownership, chiefly in the form of national forests and wildlands.

CIVIC CENTER LANDMARK TAKES SHAPE

New Faces: Political Variety Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Pulitzer prize-winning author, a Lutheran ministetr, a former two-star general and another Herbert Hoover are among the new faces seeking high federal and state office this year.

The urge to serve also has bitten sons of three former U.S. senators and a one-time basketball star.

The Pulitzer-winning candidate is James A. Michener, who won the award in 1948 for Tales of the South Pacific. He will run for the Democratic nomination for a seat in Congress from Pennsylvania.

The House seat he is after is in Bucks and Lehigh counties and has been held for three terms by Republican Willard S. Curtin. Michener, 55, lives near Doylestown, a suburban Philadelphia community. He has never sought office before.

Then, of course, there's George Romney, the Detroit auto maker, who has announced for the Republican governorship nomination in Michigan. If he wins this first try for public office, there is talk he might be a GOP presidential possibility in 1964. Romney won't discuss that.

Herbert Hoover has announced for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate from Iowa, but there's a catch. He's an Oskaloosa farmer, not the former president, a native of West Branch, Iowa. Farmer Hoover says he's a distant relative of the 31st president.

Another presidential relative, Edward M. Kennedy, brother of President John F. Kennedy, added to speculation he might seek the Democratic senatorial nomination from Massachusetts. Questioned about this in Warsaw, Poland, he said he didn't think that was the place to make such an announcement.

His most likely opponent is Edward J. McCormack Jr., Massachusetts attorney general and a nephew of House Speaker John W. McCormack. Neither has announced.

A congressman's widow, Mrs. Corinne Boyd Riley, has just won the Democratic nomination for the U.S. House in South Carolina to fill out the rest of her late husband's term expiring in January. The special election is May 8.

Mrs. Riley says she will not seek the full two-year term, but her primary opponent, another woman, State Rep. Martha Thomas Fitzgerald, is expected to seek the Democratic nomination for the full term in a June primary.

In California, Loyd Wright, Los Angeles attorney and former president of the American Bar Assn., has announced for the Republican nomination for the U.S. Senate.

John Alsop, 46, brother of writers Joseph and Stewart Alsop and president of the Mutual Insurance Co., of Hartford, is among the announced candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination in Connecticut.

In Georgia, Republicans will be trying to elect their first governor since Reconstruction days. They are backing A. Edward Smith, a prominent Columbus attorney.

A motel operator at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, 53-year-old Edward F. Hutchinson, will oppose Gov. John H. Reed for the GOP nomination for governor.

In Maryland, Rogers C. B. Morton, a beef cattle farmer and multimillionaire, has announced for a congressional GOP nomination. He's a brother of the former GOP national chairman, Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, and has lived in Maryland 10 years.

George C. Lodge, son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former ambassador to the United Nations and Massachusetts Senator, is seeking the Republican senatorial nomination in Massachusetts.

R. Crosby Kemper Jr., Kansas City banker, wants the GOP nomination for the U.S. Senate in Missouri.

For congressman-at-large in Ohio there are two familiar names among Republican candidates: Robert Taft Jr., majority leader of the state House and son of the late Senator Robert A. Taft, and Lowell Fess, a state senator and son of the late Sen. Simeon D. Fess of Ohio.

Controversial former Army Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker is among the announced candidates for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in Texas. He said he's running as part of his fight against international communism.

A Lutheran minister, the Rev. Richard G. Christensen of Edmonds, seeks the Republican nomination for the Senate from the state of Washington. In Wyoming, Kenny Sailors, former University of Wyoming and pro basketball star and now a Jackson Hole dude rancher, has announced for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Hearing Held On Liquor Licenses

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A proposal to require corporations holding liquor licenses to designate one officer or employee to be responsible for operation under the license has been advanced by the chairman of an assembly committee.

The suggestion came from Assemblman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced) whose governmental organization committee held a two-day hearing this week on the problems caused by the high prices of liquor licenses.

Malcolm E. Harris, state director of alcoholic beverage control, had complained to the committee that his department has little control over corporations which hold liquor licenses. Harris said corporations are required to report on any transfer of 10 per cent or more of the stock.

However, Harris complained that, if corporations do not comply with these requirements, his department must file an accusation against the corporation. This often leads to court battles which last five or six years, Harris said, and, during that time, the licensed premises remain in operation —possibly unqualified persons operating it.

Jobs In Bay Area Hit Record High

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Employment in the San Francisco Bay Area during January was the highest on record for that month.

The State Department of Employment said that 1,153,600 persons were working in the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area during the period. This was an increase of 32,100, or 2.9 per cent, over January 1961.

1 In Every 740 Is In Prison In California

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—One person in every 740 in California is in a correctional institution of the state. The average age of the prison population is 31.9 years, more than a year younger than it was 10 years ago.

These are some of the statistics included in a new publication of the state Department of Corrections' "California Prisoners, 1960."

The department said 1960 saw the greatest calendar increase in population in prisons in the states' history—a jump of 2,361. The total population at the end of 1960 was 21,660, more than enough to populate cities about the size of Oceanside or San Lorenzo.

The largest upward trend was in the young adult, 20 to 24, age bracket. This part of the population climbed from 13.8 per cent of the total in 1950 to 17.6 per cent in 1960.

Savings Bonds

Marin County sales of Series E and H savings bonds during January totaled $161,568, according to D. C. Davis, county bond chairman.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE

Loan No. 001-11432

WHEREAS, WILLIAM L. SIMPSON, a married man, heretofore executed and delivered a certain Deed of Trust, dated November 17, 1960 to CITIZENS' AUXILIARY CORPORATION, a corporation, as Trustee, to secure the payment of a Promissory Note to CITIZENS' FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, and also all other indebtedness agreed by said Deed of Trust to be secured, which said Deed of Trust was recorded in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, in Book 1416 of Official Records, at Page 26; and

WHEREAS, default having been made in the payment of said Promissory Note according to its terms, CITIZENS' FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION, a corporation, as owner and holder of said Promissory Note and beneficiary under said Deed of Trust, on the 15th day of September 1961, filed for record a Notice of Default under said Deed of Trust in the office of the County Recorder of the County of Marin, State of California, which said Notice of Default was recorded in said office in Book 1497 of Official Records at Page 456; and

WHEREAS, more than three months have elapsed since the recording of said Notice of Default and said CITIZENS' FEDERAL SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATION has demanded that the undersigned, as Trustee, sell the property described in said Deed of Trust, pursuant to the terms thereof and the provisions of law;

WHEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, pursuant to said demand, the terms of said Deed of Trust and the provisions of law, that the undersigned, as Trustee thereunder, will sell, without warranty on the 15th day of March, 1962, at 9:30 o'clock A.M. at the main entrance to the Marin County Courthouse in the City of San Rafael, County of Marin, State of California, at public auction, to the highest bidder, as an entirety, all of the property described in said Deed of Trust, situate in the City of Ross, County of Marin, State of California, described as follows:

LOTS 4 and 5, as shown on the map entitled "Bosqui Tract, Ross Valley, Marin Co., Cal.", filed March 15, 1905 in Liber 2 of Maps, at page 18, in the office of the Recorder of Marin County, State of California.

Terms of Sale: Cash, lawful money of the United State of America, payable at time of sale.

Airman Is Second In Slogan Contest

T/Sgt. Robert B. Carothers of the 78th Fighter Wing has been given a wrist watch as second prize in the Air Defense Command slogan contest to promote nuclear safety at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sergeant Carothers slogan, "Nuclear safety is an investment with interest . . . yours."

Carothers has won more than $500 from the Air Force for suggestions and inventions. He received the Air Force commendation medal in 1961 for this.

Sausalito To Salute Sister City

"Salute to Vina," the second anniversary celebration of Sausalito honoring its sister city, Vina Del Mar, Chile, will be held March 1-3.

Sponsored jointly by the People-to-People Committee, Friends of the Library, Sausalito Chamber of Commerce and Sausalito Rotary Club, festivities begin March 1 at 12:30 p.m. with a luncheon and fashion show at the Ondine Restaurant, 558 Bridgeway.

Manuel Tello, Chilean consul in San Francisco, and Senora Tello will be honored, as well as Sergio Montero, Chilean portrait painter. Marion Bellamy will present "Fashions With a View" at the no-host luncheon.

PROSE POEMS

At 8 p.m., Fernando Alegria will present four prose poems and a sketch of Chile entitled "An Image of Chile" at Perry's Hall at 44 Caledonia Street. Alegria is professor of Spanish-American literature at University of California, Berkeley. He is a Chilean novelist who received a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1947. His most recent novel, "Caballa De Copas," appeared last year in France and will be published this year in England. There is no admission charge.

Friday, March 2, Spanish classes of Central, Bayside and Richardson Bay schools will observe Vina Del Mar Day under direction of Fernando Silva, Sausalito School District Spanish instructor.

The anniversary breakfast will be held at 10 a.m., Saturday, March 3, at the Alta Mira Hotel. Invocation will be given by Rev. David C. Jacobsen, pastor of Sausalito Presbyterian Church. Loren Jay will be master of ceremonies and Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. is to welcome guests. Speakers will include Chilean Consul Tello; Leslie and Linda Hail of Richardson Bay School; Robert Rich, president of the Sausalito Rotary Club, and Russell H. Papenhausen, chamber of commerce president.

FOLK SONGS

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Arambura will entertain with Chilean folk songs with guitar accompaniment and Chairman Charles H. Merrill Jr. of the People-to-People committee, will speak on "Looking Ahead in 1962."

Weather permitting, there will be a band concert in Plaza Vina Del Mar following breakfast at noon. The Sausalito public library will hold open house from noon to 2 p.m.

Senor Montero will exhibit some of his paintings at the Alta Mira.

GARRULOUS GUYS IN 'GAZEBO'

Mill Valley Jr. Chamber To Name Man Of Year

The Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold its third annual distinguished service award dinner and bosses' night March 15 at 7 p.m. at the California Alpine Club, Panoramic Highway in Mill Valley.

An award will be presented by Mayor Robert D. Huber to the man 35 or under in Southern Marin chosen for his work in both professional life and service to the community as outstanding young man of the year.

General Chairman Earl Gates reports that 60 nomination blanks have been sent out to civic groups in Southern Marin for the selection, and that persons may receive forms from Dr. Lee Smith of 61 Camino Alto, Mill Valley, the Junior Chamber's program chairman.

Judges selecting the award winner will be: Rev. Harold K. Graves, president of the Golden Gate Baptist Seminary; City Councilman Michael Wornum; Mill Valley School District trustee William L. Clark and Supt. G. Robert McConnell, and Thomas B. Lathrop, branch manager of Wells Fargo Bank.

Last year the award was given to Jack Lentz, and in 1960 it was awarded to Normand Black.

Joe Brewster Is Re-Elected By Horsemen

Joe Brewster is the 1962 president of the Southern Marin Horsemen's Assn., serving in the position for the second time, following election of officers at a recent membership meeting.

Others: Henry Soderling, vice president; Leslie Maxwell, secretary; and Carol Jackson, treasurer. Junior officers are Kris Parker, Delia Rasella and Debbie Flenming.

Margaret M. Adams, Joe A. Canet, D. J. Lione and Orville Peterson were elected to the board of directors.

The group, now in its third year, has about 55 members. Meetings are held at 8 p.m. the first Friday in the basement meeting room of Old Mill School, Mill Valley. The March 2 meeting will feature a paleontologist who will discuss the evolution of the horse from the tiny five-toed Eohippus(the dawn horse) down to the present light saddle horse. Refreshments will be served.

Free Concert

A free concert by the string section of the Claudio Chamber Symphony Orchestra conducted by Cesare Claudio of Kentfield is scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco.

Hayakawa Will Speak On Communications At School

"Success and Failure in Communication" will be the topic of a talk by semanticist S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley at the Bernard Hoffman School multi-purpose room in Terra Linda at 8 p.m. March 7.

He will speak under sponsorship of the Dixie Teachers Assn., the coordinating council of Dixie Parent-Teacher organizations and the Marin County superintendent of schools.

Admission will be by reservation only, the Dixie School District office announced, and tickets must be obtained in advance. Tickets for the public may be obtained from Mrs. Aileen Peavy, membership chairman of the Marinwood Home and School Club; Mrs. George Error, membership chairman of the Santa Margarita Teacher - Parent Group; Mrs. Sten Hammarstrom, membership chairman of the Don Timoteo Teacher-Parent Group, or Mrs. A. F. Marcelli, membership chairman of the Hoffman Teacher-Parent Group.

Group Of Girls 'Adopts' Orphan

An 11-year-old Korean girl has been "adopted" by Omacha, Camp Fire Girls of Ross, it was announced today.

Jin Yun Bok of Seoul, whose father was killed during fighting in Korea, will receive $15 a month from the Ross group to assist her mother in her support. The adoption was sponsored by Foster Parents Plan, Inc.

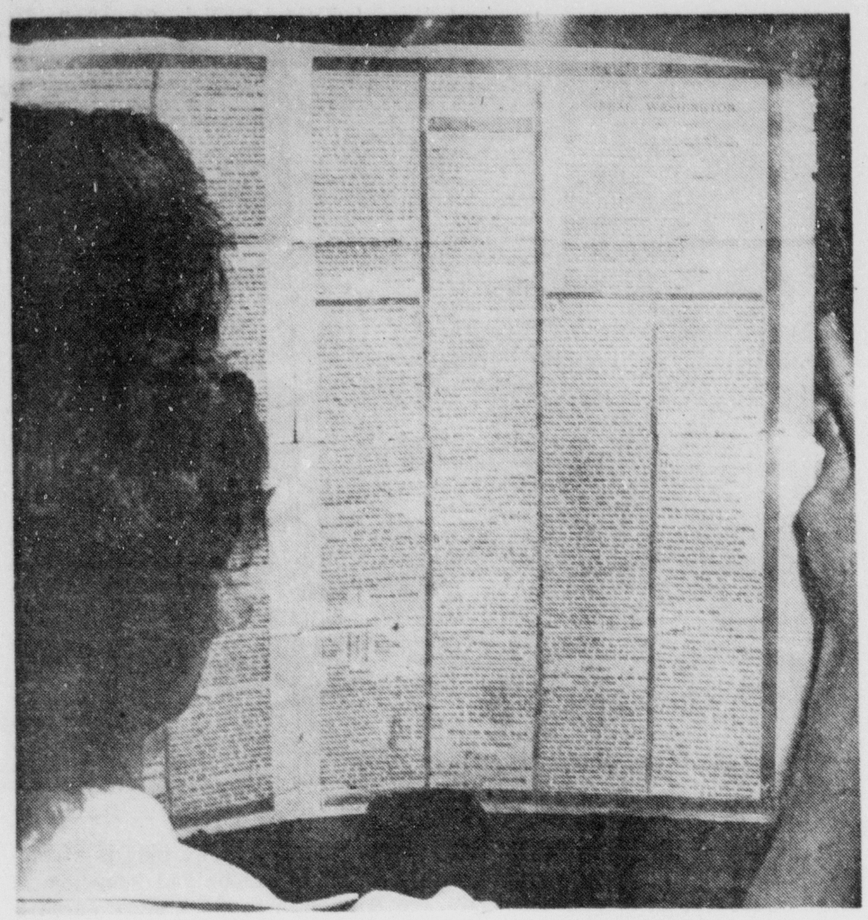

Of the $15, the child will receive $8 in cash, the remainder going toward clothing and food packages, medical services and education. Correspondence between foster parents and their adopted children is encouraged.

THE DEATH OF WASHINGTON

Mrs. W. P. Forcade of 66 Treehaven Drive, San Rafael, reads the black bordered columns of a Jan. 4, 1800, issue of the Ulster County Gazette somberly announcing the death of George Washington. Yellowed and crumbling, the New York paper containing a description of the funeral and an ode to the nation's first president. It was given to Mrs. Forcade by her mother. Mrs. Forcade believes it was handed down in the family from previous generations. (Independent-Journal photo)

Civic Affairs Unit To Vote For Directors

Directors will be elected by the Marin Council for Civic Affairs at its annual meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Retiring directors have recommended a four-point program for work of the next year, according to Morris N. Finley, vice chairman who said the meeting will decide on undertakings to be tackled.

Recommended are: Planning future development of civic center and fairgrounds, countywide planning, study of Marin County's place in the Bay Area, and county government studies.

New nominees for directorships, additional to current directors nominated for second terms, are Mrs. Alfred Azevedo, Nathaniel Guyol, N. Robert Heyer, Mrs. John G. Kelley, Harvey Killian and Frank Solomon Jr.

Incumbent directors who have been nominated are Ward Austin, Jack Bissinger Sr., Mrs. Frederic Cowden, Charles Davies, Milen Dempster, Morris Finisy, James Fletcher, Leland Jordan, Stephen Kaufmann, Frederic Kerr, Mrs. Helen Kerr, Gibbs Lawson, Franklin McLain, Robert Mertle, Harold Stockstad, Harold Watkin and William Wolfson.

Novatan Invents Air Traffic Aid

By ALTON BOCK

Air travel is so heavy nowadays that pilots are faced with traffic problems often as hazardous as those of the freeway, but a Novato man has solved one problem with a pocket-size gadget made of plastic.

It's called the "pictorial entry holding computer," and it's the invention of R. J. Scribner, a simulated flight instructor for Pan American World Airways in San Francisco.

Traffic jams at major airports have resulted in federal regulations which require planes to "park" in mid-air before landing, much the same way that cars are guided into metropolitan parking lots.

New rules which become effective June 1 require all civil and military planes to maintain a "holding pattern" when about to land. The patterns establish a rigidly defined space in which pilots must fly while awaiting permission to land.

Flight patterns over airports are sometimes as mixed up as a dog's breakfast. Disasterous collisions have resulted.

The holding patterns are intended to put this air traffic in order, but to fly into the proper pattern the pilot must make quick mental calculations of a complicated mathematical formula.

Scribner's computer reduces this calculation to an easy diagram, just as a student uses a slide-rule to multiply.

When the plane's position is fixed by a white arrow on the computer, the pilot can "dial" the correct holding pattern radioed to him by the airport.

"I got to thinking about finding a short method to figure holding patterns about eight months ago," Scribner said, "and this scheme worked."

The computer, manufactured in Japan and distributed by a San Francisco firm, has already been adopted by the pilots of several major airlines, as well as military flyers.

Scribner, a resident of Novato 11 years, has worked in flight engineering for 16 years. He lives at 715 Sutro Avenue with his wife, Nadine, and three children, Don, 17; Linda, 10 and Darryl, 6.

'SLIDE RULE' FOR PILOTS — R. J. Scribner of Novato shows "pictorial entry holding computer" which he has devised to simplify airplane pilots' calculations of "holding space" they must keep while in midair awaiting landing clearance at airports. Device, now on market, is regarded as safety aid. (Independent-Journal photo)

Group Starts Blood Bank

A blood bank and a scholarship fund have been started by the Ross Valley Teachers Assn., William S. Hartley, association president and assistant principal at A. E. Kent School, has announced.

The scholarship fund will provide a $25 scholarship for a College of Marin graduate who intends to become a teacher. College of Marin officials will select the student to receive the yearly award, Hartley said.

Minutemen Rolling Off Production Line

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Aerojet-General Corp. has started rolling Air Force Minuteman ICBM rocket motors from a multi-million dollar production line here.

Minuteman, a three stage missile with a 6,300 mile range, is the first U.S. Solid fuel ICBM.

Home Construction With Steel Backed

By HARRY CRAFT

"A home can be built to last 100 to 150 years if it is constructed of steel."

This was the opinion expressed by Dave Thorne, Berkeley architect who was one of a panel of experts who spoke Tuesday night on steel home construction before a meeting of the Marin County branch of the Associated Home Builders.

The meeting at the Paecock Gap Golf and Country Club was attended by about 160 contractors, builders, designers and others interested in this comparatively new type of home building.

Others who related their experiences in the use of steel were Don Moyer, San Francisco structural engineer; Otto Schrader of Schrader Iron Works, San Francisco; and Wally Burr, Oakland building contractor. The discussion was led by Ed Stuber, a sales engineer from Bethlehem Steel Co.

Moyer said Marin County offered an ideal location for the use of steel framing on its hillside sites, and called attention to slides during the recent rains, many of which, he said, would have been non-existent if houses had been set on steel piers with concrete footings.

Schrader pointed to advantages of speed in steel framing which he said can be erected in one day. The big problem, he added, was in getting architects and contractors accustomed to use of closer tolerances required to coordinate steel with wood.

"The most efficient use of steel," he noted, "is in having framing members prefabricated to exact size, because shop labor is cheaper than field labor."

Burr, who looked at the problem from a contractor's viewpoint, admitted that steel construction involves having a major subcontractor on the job "before getting the first payment."

A question and answer period developed that steel can be cheaper on difficult building sites, particularly with quality homes. But wood framing is less expensive on the level and where only short spans are required.

It was noted that a number of contractors present have already used steel framing or all-steel construction on steep slopes in Marin.

The meeting was said to be the first such discussion in the Bay Area wherein members of the building industry could make their views known.

Highway Patrol Warns Drivers

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Highway Patrol is warning motorists to drive slower and stay further behind the car in front.

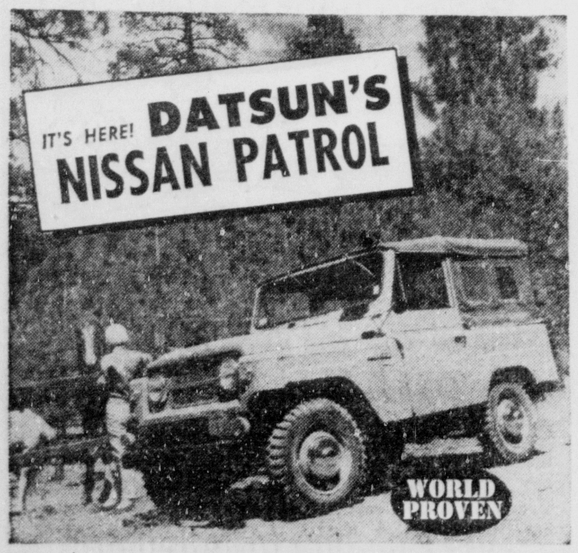

"The only alternative is a greatly increased potential for projecting your car into an accident causing situation," said Patrol commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden.

TV Actor Also Stars As Artist

NEW YORK (UPI)—One of the truly versatile personalities of show business is Fred Gwynne, the tall, angular actor who plays Officer Muldoon as co-star of the NBC television series "Car 54—Where Are You?"

Besides being an accomplished actor whose work has been seen on the Broadway stage as well as television, Gwynne is an artist who has illustrated many books. His latest illustrations, distinctive and satirical, are for the new book "The Battle of the Frogs and the Mice," scheduled for Feb. 26 publication by Dodd, Mead and Co.

The book, authored by George Martin, tells in words and pictures a Homeric epic of a disastrous war between frogs and mice. The tale, originally credited to Homer but now thought to have been the work of a later author, mirrors, through lampoon, the folly of wars of all times..

What's In Store? Great Bargains

Corte Madera Center is going all out to celebrate Washington's birthday with fabulous bargains and values for everyone.

For 22 cents, at Montgomery Ward, a customer can buy a television set, a man's sport coat, cherry candy, cherry pies, a tire, seat covers, quart of oil, yardage for a lady's skirt, a 54-piece set of dishes, a floor waxer, a silver service for six, a toaster and many, many other outstanding values.

Many items are one of a kind so shoppers are urged to be at the store early. In addition to the fabulous bargains, customers are invited to "Unlock the Stock." With every purchase, the salesperson will give the purchaser a key.

If the key unlocks the lady locked in the stockade, the customer wins a prize. Prizes include a portable electric washer, percolators, toasters, dishes, nylons and other exciting prizes.

In addition, other amazing values will be on sale throughout the CMC center.

New Twist On A Mailman Gag

GREER, S.C. (AP) — Mail carrier Buck Henson was trying to shoo away a loudly barking dog when he suddenly was attacked from another quarter.

A little boy came out of a near-by house, ran up to Henson and bit him on the arm.

Customer Always Does Come First

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A robber held up a supermarket here but didn't get all the money he had intended to take.

He demanded the money from store manager J. S. Presley who started to sack it up. But a woman who was paying for her purchases objected. She wanted her change, she said, "before he takes it all."

She got it.

Inflation Hits Theatrical Tour

MANTES-LA-JOLIE, France (UPI)—The wandering minstrel show of the past has given way to the wandering Cinerama show in France.

The Cinerama show, complete with semi-circular screen, projector and portable, inflatable theater was demonstrated here recently.

One of the problems of the advent of Cinerama was the cost of refitting theaters to accommodate the semi-circular screen.

Sponsors of the traveling show said Cinerama, or any big show, for that matter, can operate with only a vacant lot big enough to hold the huge, inflatable canvas and rubber bag.

It took eight minutes to inflate the bag which, when blown up, accommodated crowds upwards of 2,000 persons. Chairs were added and lighting came from a portable generator.

Wishful Thinking

ELDORA, Iowa (AP)—The inmates of the State Training School for Boys recently chose their favorite popular tune: "Hit the Road, Jack."

Herbert Sherbet Manager Knows About Cones, Coins

Albert (Bud) Fitzgerald, manager of the Herbert Sherbet shop in Corte Madera Shopping Center, likes to buy, sell and trade coins. It has been his hobby for many years.

Three months ago coins became a part of his business. That is the reason the Herbert Sherbet Shop now features "Cones and Coins." His wife, Muriel, assists him with the coin collection, and waitress Glenda Hendricks, helps at the ice cream counter.

Fitzgerald buys and sells all U.S. and Canadian coins, including gold coins, old paper money printed as far back as 1899, a complete collection of 2-cent and 3-cent pieces and a one-half-cent piece minted in 1807.

The value of a coin is determined, not by how old it is, but rather by how rare and how much in demand it is.

Fitzgerald has lived in the Bay Area for the past 25 years. He now resides in Corte Madera with his wife, Muriel, and their two children, Deborah, 9, and Mike, 8. Fitzgerald also sponsors a Little League basketball team for 8 to 12 year old boys in San Rafael.

POWs Buried In Oklahoma

McALESTER, Okla. (UPI) — Bodies of three Germans rest in Oak Hill Cemetery here in a government-made "Tomb of the Forgotten Soldiers."

The three were German prisoners of World War II brought here by train in September, 1942, for internment.

Their names, inscribed on the tomb, are Albert Theurer, Kurt Leonhardt and Herman Went.

F. L. Smith, cemetery sexton, said Went was the first to be interred, after he died of pneumonia in 1943. Theurer died a year later of a rare blood disease. Leonhardt hanged himself in February, 1945.

THOM McAN'S

Shoe Style Center Is Near Completion

Thom McAn's new family shoe style center is nearing completion in Corte Madera Shopping Center, Corte Madera. The store will be operated by a local company, Corte Madera Thom McAn, Inc., according to Harold Atkinson, district director for Thom McAn in this area.

Dress and casual shoes for the entire family — men, women, children and teenagers—plus color-coordinated handbags, hosiery and other accessories will be available.

A feature will be the new collection of high fashion shoes reflecting the latest style trends and silhouettes for women. Several hundred shoe styles for all ages agree exhibited on open displays, and customers can make their own tentative selections before being seated for fitting in separate departments for men, women and children.

Thom McAn has pioneered in the development of family shoe style centers where personal service, ample parking and spacious store interiors make shopping easy and convenient.

The new store is one of an advanced type being built by Thom McAn all over the country. Francis C. Rooney Jr., Thom McAn president, commented:

"We believe these new family footwear centers will revolutionize shoe buying habits in suburban areas by making it easy for everyone to find high styles at modest prices."

The first Thom McAn store was opened in New York City in 1922. Since then the number has grown to nearly 900 in 500 cities from coast to coast, to make Thom McAn the largest integrated manufacturing-retailing organization in the shoe industry.

6,000 Bitten By Dogs In '61

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dogs are big biters in Los Angeles, with more than 6,000 victims in 1961, says the Department of Animal Regulation.

But other creatures from coatis to kinkajous have also gotten in on the feast. Four persons were bitten by apes, say the statistics, with others providing the fare for ocelots and opossums.

Second and third on the list are cats and hamsters, with more than 900 and 150 victims respectively.

J. C. Penney Observing 61st Birthday

J. C. Penney Co. this year observes the 60th anniversary of its founding, according to Roger Nabers, manager of Penney's, Corte Madera Center. He said his store is one of 1,700 stores in 48 states forming the chain of retail department stores founded by the man whose name it bears.

Nabers pointed out that James Cash Penney, now 86 and a director of the company, started the business in 1902, when he opened a small dry-goods store in Kemmerer, Wyo. He called this first store The Golden Rule to symbolize his belief that an ethical yardstick is just as applicable in business as it is in one's personal life.

Penney's policy of selling quality merchandise is still practiced by the chain, which today is one of the nation's largest corporations, with annual sales of 1.5 billion dollars.

A number of community and store events has been planned in connection with the anniversary observance, according to Nabers. One high point in the activities will come around April 14, date of the Kemmerer store opening back in 1902.

Penney's, whose reputation over the years has been built in the soft goods field, has been expanding its lines of merchandise to include the so-called hard goods. These lines are being introduced gradually. Meanwhile, further proof of the company's intention to expand and diversify came late in 1961, when it laid the groundwork for entry into the mail order field.

During its 60-year history, Penney's has been known for its neighborly spirit which has resulted in a sensitivity to the retailing needs of the community. Penney hoped to build "not a chain of stores, but a chain of men held together by an idea." In line with Penney's hope, Nabers said that each store is run by a manager like himself who has control over its operations and is close to the people of the community he serves.

Penney's has been instrumental in developing a number of retailing "firsts." For instance, it was first to have work clothes Sanforized and "graduated" according to size. In addition, the company was first to use Sanitized, a chemical which inhibits the growth of bacteria. Although used primarily in shoes, the process has application in other products to keep them fresher and cleaner and make them last longer.

The company generally is conceded to be the nation's number one supplier of many items, including infants' sleepers, blankets, men's slacks, sheets and pillow cases, women's hose, men's underwear, work clothes and women's apparel. As a matter of fact, the company takes pride in the statistic showing that Penney customers buy enough blankets in one year to reach from New York to Los Angeles — and back to New York again.

Nabers said that all of Penney's operations have a single objective: to bring to customer across the country quality merchandise at lowest possible prices.

'Carnaval In Rio' Shaping Up As An Unusual Stage Show

"Carnaval in Rio," the Brazilian extravaganza, sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club and produced by the "Gigi Presents" Co. is shaping up into Marin's most unusual stage presentation.

Harry Kramar, Corte Madera Merchants Council president, and Lions Club member, reports that the various segments of the ambitious enterprise are nearing integration into an exciting review.

The presentation will be staged in a cabaret setting, with dinner included in the admission price, and promises to make a large contribution to the Lions' recreation fund.

Gigi Sill, producer and wife of Crocker-Anglo Bank manager B. A. Sill, has collected the mixture of amateurs and professional members of the Carnival cast and induced the assistance of a fine backstage crew.

Leola Dixon, among the leaders in Marin art circles, with a long list of one man shows to her credit, has designed and executed the backdrops. These include Rio's celebrated Copacabana beach and Sugar Loaf on Guanabara Bay.

The background music, taped in Rio, is as authentic as "on the spot" recording can make it.

The production, with a cast of 100, has been in rehearsal more than six months.

WHAT'S POPPIN

Spring Styles Bring Lots Of Colors

By JANET POPPIN

February has brought in a month of overflowing colors and fabulous spring styles.

The fashion parade starts off with warm top coats of wool and fuzzy fur. Styles are wide in range, including blazer coats, both single and double breasted and shawl collared coats of seven eighths or full length.

Butterfly or tapered sleeves have been added to the basic coat. Large buttons widely spaced and tiny buttons sewn closely together down the front of coats, have added much interesting detail. The colors of these coats vary as the rainbow with electra blues, fascinating oranges, and spicy browns.

Following closely behind the coats come the combination winter-spring suits of red and navy with buckles topped by a perky Little Boy Blue hat. Deep navy cadet type jackets with insets of bright red provide fashion interest along with puffy beret hats and short red kid gloves.

Belts are coming into fashion very strongly. This season, now more than ever, will feature belts over jackets and belts over skirts. The belts will either match the material of the jacket and skirts or the leather of the shoes and handbag.

Shoes and handbags are making their debut in bright yellow, orange, red, brown, beige, white, green, blue and black patent leathers. Wider and shorter heels along with sling backs are being featured for sports wear, while suede takes its place with slim, spike heel for evening.

As this is the year for blouses, they are definitely going to been seen in various shapes, styles, and colors, including snow white, blush pink, powder blue, flaxen beige, jet black, dark olive green, sunny yellow, and coral. The styles will feature the short choir, the ruffly sissy, and the flouncy butterfly type blouses.

Polka-dots and moonbeams is not only a song title but also refers to the successfully popular petti pants. Other styles and colors are the Spanish rose, the sleek tiger, and the snow bunny. Lacy lace and tiny bows add to the femininity of the petti pants.

Massive necklaces and bracelets are being worn this season. Stones and watches, real or fake, dangle from link chains around wrists and necks.

California has more species of conifers than any area of equal size in the world.

Gamma Rays Bomb Sesame

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—Sesame, a grain that calls up visions of the ancient east, is getting acquainted with atomic-age processes.

The Texas Research Foundation at Renner, outside Dallas, has had sesame plant seeds bombarded with gamma rays at the Oak Ridge, Tenn. Atomic Energy Commission installation. The bombardment brings new mutations that can't be obtained with ordinary greenhouse and field procedures.

Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the foundation, said the Cobalt 60 gamma ray emissions also speed up mutations.

He said although research with irradiation breeding is now at the "Pandora's box stage," in that geneticists can't predict future prospects, it has great promise.

One mutation produced plants with double stems. Scientists hope to get a multistem strain.

On the receiving end of the research benefits, Lundell said, are the farmer and consumer.

Oil Men Get Quick Data

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—It takes about 30 minutes of reading for oil technicians to learn the latest in their business.

The University of Tulsa has installed a unique new system which abstracts some 500 magazines for data and reports on oil business, from under the ground to the refinery.

Dr. E. T. Guerrero, head of the TU petroleum engineering department, said his library is the most complete concerning the search for oil, drilling, completion of wells, production of oil and transportation.

The library receives magazines in 10 languages, including 38 Russian publications. Vital articles are indexed and technicians can read brief summaries of subjects that meet their interest. If more information is needed, they can hunt out the original article.

Oxidized But Operating

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Rusty Plumbing Co. is in business on Miami's southwest side.

It's Always Right In Own Back Yard

SARDINIA, N.Y. (AP)—Arthur J. Carlsen didn't kill any deer while hunting for them several miles from his farm here.
